BALTIC FLEET IS AGAIN SIGHTED

Russian Ships Seen in Kamranh Bay, Far Up Cochin-China Coast.

FIGHT LIKELY AT PESCADORES

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SINGAPORE, April 16.—The North German Lloyd steamship Prinz Heinrich reports she sighted 18 vessels of the Russian Baltic squadron in Kamranh bay, at noon on Friday. The steamer did not see any Japanese warships.

HONG KONG, April 16.—The steamer Telemachus reports she heard firing 150 miles north of the Natuna islands, at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of April 12.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 17.—(12:45 a. m.)—There is no information from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, but the admiralty would not be surprised to learn of skirmishing between scout ships today or tomorrow, and the inauguration of torpedo warfare soon is not unexpected. The naval organ here expresses the opinion that Togo was taken completely by surprise when Rojestvensky suddenly appeared at the entrance of the China sea, and is now concentrating his widely scattered fleet near the Pescadores, where it is believed a sea fight will probably occur.

The navy department has proclaimed defense zones surrounding the Pescadores, the Island of Okinawa, in the Loochoo group, and the islands of Oshima and Emi, off the province of Osumi. The usual navigation restrictions apply.

LONDON, April 17.—Details regarding the Russian ships in Kamranh bay, Cochin-China, are too meager to be instructive. According to the Daily Mail's Singapore correspondent, the North German Lloyd steamer Prinz Heinrich saw five battleships and six cruisers in the bay but the dispatches to other of the London morning newspapers are not so precise. The Daily Telegraph's Singapore correspondent, like the Associated Press, merely reports "18 vessels," and adds that the captain of the Prinz Heinrich states that possibly more warships were inside the harbor, but that they were invisible from the offing.

The presence of the Russian squadron off the Annam coast is raising keen interest here, in view of the possibility of their infringing Chinese neutrality and of the likelihood of Rojestvensky having had to split his squadron. The Morning Post's correspondent at Shanghai telegraphs that China has instructed the governors of the southern provinces to maintain strict neutrality in view of the possibility of Russian ships sheltering there.

SERIOUSLY STABBED IN STREET OF ALLEGHENY

Edwin Rothermel Is the Victim of a Knife Wound and an Italian Is Arrested.

While walking in Washington avenue, near Manhattan street, Allegheny, about 8:30 o'clock last night, Edwin Rothermel, aged 35, of 1321 Pennsylvania avenue, was stabbed and seriously injured. Samuel Eaetnao, an Italian shoemaker of Termon avenue, who is charged with committing the deed, was arrested in an alley near Chartiers street while trying to escape. Policeman Moses Gordon placed the Italian under arrest after a fight during which the Italian attempted to stab him.

Rothermel was taken to the office of Dr. J. L. Robertson, and after his wound was dressed he was removed to his home. He will recover.

While being taken to No. 3 police station in the patrol wagon, Eaetnao attempted to throw away a knife. The knife, which was covered with blood, was afterward found in the wagon. At the station another knife and a loaded revolver were found in Eaetnao's pockets. Rothermel says he does not know the Italian and the police think that Rothermel was mistaken for another person by his assailant.

RATE HEARINGS TO BEGIN TODAY

Senate Committee Is Divided and May Disagree on Recommendations.

SOME PROMINENT WITNESSES

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.

With every prospect of final disagreement in the matter of its recommendations, the senate committee on interstate commerce, under authority granted by the senate before it adjourned, will begin its railroad rate hearings at the capitol tomorrow. Senator Elkins, chairman of the committee, has been at Atlantic City for a week, but will be present. A notable absence will be Senator Aldrich, who has not yet returned from Europe.

The committee meets with two factions in the Republican membership. Senators Elkins, Kean and Foraker are opposed to any measure going so far as the Esch-Townsend bill, which was passed by the house. On the other hand Senators Cullom, Dolliver and Clapp, under the pressure of public opinion in their states, are in favor of legislation along the lines recommended by the president in his last message, which will give the interstate commerce commission power to fix rates. Of the Democrats, Senator Carmack is most insistent on a radical measure. Senator Tillman will not be present on account of illness.

Senator Elkins has already notified every important railroad president in the country, and the railroad side of the case is expected to be heard first. In fact, at the coming hearings the railroads will be much in evidence, and their representatives have prepared an important campaign against any kind of legislation looking to government control. Just before the last session adjourned the railroads were represented before the committee several times and requested that the hearings be continued because only a small part of their cases had been put in. This move for delay appeared to be agreeable to Senator Elkins and to Senator Kean.

The resumption of the hearings marks the renewal of the great fight for railroad legislation, which President Roosevelt precipitated in his message last fall. With Gov. Cumming and Senator Hansbrough giving up the contest for tariff revision so far as the new congress is concerned, railroad rate legislation promises to be the big fight of the winter.

In one form and another, this question has been before congress ever since the supreme court decided that the present law did not empower the interstate commerce commission to fix rates. Testimony has been taken by the volume by the industrial commission and the two committees of congress. Every year since 1897 the interstate commerce commission in its annual reports has recommended legislation giving it more power. From present appearance congress seems as much divided on the question as ever. There will probably be two reports from the senate committee, one recommending effective legislation on the lines of the Esch-Townsend bill, and the other a measure which will do the railroads no harm and the public little good.

TWO BROTHERS KILLED IN FIGHT WITH POSSE

SANTA FE, N. M., April 16.—(Special.)—Death has ended the criminal career of the Gates brothers. Word has been received from Special Officer J. N. Thacker, who is in Lordsburg, N. M., that George and Edward Vernon Gates, the two Alameda (Cal.) boys wanted for the murder of Express Messenger O'Neill, who was killed in the holdup of the Oregon express on April 5, a year ago, were recently killed in a fight with a sheriff's posse near Separ, N. M.

GUARDED ROCKEFELLER AGAINST CAMERA MEN

LAKEWOOD, N. J., April 16.—(Special.)—Two policemen stood on guard at the First Baptist church today to shoo away camera men, who were seeking to obtain snapshots of John D. Rockefeller. The trustees of the church took this action to save Mr. Rockefeller from annoyance. He left the church by a rear exit last Sunday to avoid a battery of cameras.

Spring and winter fought a deadly combat in the streets of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and through the vales of Allegheny county yesterday, while the residents looked on in horror and buds and vegitation shrank to death in fright. Even the sun hid its head in shame the greater portion of the time, coming out occasionally to smile upon a brief victory of spring.

How the warfare waged, and the temporary supremacy of each combatant is best told in the record of the temperature as taken at the local weather bureau. Snow flurries are promised again for today.

These figures show a continued fluctuation, with its widest breach between the hours of 11 in the morning and 1 in the afternoon. From 11 o'clock until noon the thermometer dropped 9 degrees within the hour, reaching the low point of 28 degrees at the time when the heaviest snow flurry predominated.

Spring Took Next Fall.

With supreme effort spring secured the next throw and hurled the thermometer back 8 degrees to 36 within the next hour. Fifteen minutes thereafter, at 1:15 o'clock, the winds were turned loose to their fullest, and blew at the rate of 38 miles an hour from the west.

With a continual gain the thermometer rose to its highest point, 42 degrees, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the winds had also subsided for a time. Again winter returned with renewed energy and chased the mercury down the tube until, with the greatest satisfaction, he hurled it under the freezing point at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Snow flurries were reported generally throughout the northeastern, New England and lake districts during the entire day. While the flurries here never reached much over 1-100 of an inch at any one time, 8-100 were reported from Buffalo, and 6-100 from Philadelphia. While other sections of the east reported a decided fall in the temperature, no section suffered such varied fluctuations as this particular district.

April 16—Snow, high wind, 28 degrees, heavy overcoats, furs, fireplace closed, gas short, d——n.

The average Pittsburgher's diary will look like the above in his entry for yesterday, that is, providing he thawed himself out sufficiently to write anything. The weather broke records for the month, and the temperature in many places fell below the point of freezing. Early fruit buds were nipped, but the loss to Western Pennsylvania orchards will not be as great as was anticipated. Flower gardens suffered the loss of hothouse bulbs, and their beauty will be ruined for the summer.

Churches Cold, Cars Cheerless.

Palm Sundays as a rule are eminently seasons of bad weather in Pittsburgh. Yesterday people woke up to see the ground white with snow, while an angry gale carried flurries of the beautiful in all directions. For a short time in the morning the sun peeped out long enough to lure churchgoers to attend Palm Sunday services, but before noon the sky was dimmed by heavy black clouds and snow came again with increased wind.

Disagreeable conditions were found everywhere. Many of the churches were not sufficiently heated, the street cars were cheerless and to walk upon the street in the face of the cutting wind taxed the good humor of most people past the point of Lenten gentleness and humility. It was a pathetic sight to watch women in ante-Easter hats, spring silks and jacketless on the promenade, while the wind swirled their airy skirts about their heads. The light topcoat which was pre-eminently the fashionable thing a week ago, looked like a charity garment.

"The damage to the early fruit will be comparatively slight," said Supt. William Falconer of the Allegheny cemetery, an authority on horticulture.

Buds Too Hardy to Be Hurt.

"The early cherry trees, the pear trees and peach trees suffered in cases where the buds were partly out, but the few cool days last week held back the buds, and this sudden snow squall finds them hardy enough to withstand the shock of the present low temperature. The season is about normal, and next week I look for pleasant weather. The apples and later fruit are in no danger.

"It invariably follows that tales of the great damage to fruit are circulated with every succeeding cold snap in the spring, but in this instance the fruit-growers are lucky, because if the weather last week had been as warm as the previous few days, this April blizzard would have done irreparable damage. Easter flowers, which had been planted out on lawns, will be killed."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT WAMPUM

Four Buildings and Most of the Contents Are Destroyed. Loss Over $50,000.

HERO SITS OVER GASOLINE

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, April 16.—The explosion of a gasoline stove this morning in the overalls and pants factory of Joseph Stiglitz in Wampum started a fire that destroyed four buildings and threatened to sweep the entire town, which is without fire protection. The total loss is over $50,000, with about $20,000 insurance. The burned buildings were Stiglitz' overalls and pants factory, Abraham Wetzler's residence, Stiglitz' general store and H. R. Grennen's two-story business building, occupied by F. P. Major's general store.

A gasoline stove in the second floor of the pressing department of Stiglitz' place exploded and scattered the burning gasoline, which set fire to the factory and then spread to buildings adjoining. All were completely destroyed, with most of their contents. Part of the goods in Stiglitz' store were saved, but his loss is $40,000. He carried $14,000 insurance on the buildings and $3,000 on the contents. The flames were swept across Main street by the high wind and set fire to Grennen's brick building, occupied by Major's store. The building was gutted. The loss on the building is about $7,500 and that of Major about $2,500. Wetzler's loss is unknown.

Grennen's residence is but a few yards from the brick building, and his livery stable was in the rear of the fire, but both were saved through hard work on the part of a bucket brigade. Dynamite stored near the store was removed to a place of safety. James Glover, one of the bucket brigade, was almost overcome by the heat.

One of the workers sat on the roof of a building which contained 60 gallons of gasoline. He stuck to his post until the intense heat compelled him to leave. The building was scorched, but the gasoline did not ignite. Requests were sent to this city and Beaver Falls for help, and Fire Chief Connery loaded chemical engines upon cars furnished by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad in response, but the flames were under control before their arrival at Wampum.

ST. LOUIS EXPERIENCES A REAL "DRY" SUNDAY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—For the first time in six years St. Louis has been a "dry" town on Sunday, even the side doors of saloons being closed. Not only were all saloons closed, but barber shops, bootblack stands, cigar stores and restaurants were locked up. In fact, business places of all kinds except drug stores were closed. In some cases the enforcement of the Sunday closing law was so strictly observed that it was done at great inconvenience to patrons of the shops.

A barber was arrested 30 minutes after the legal hour for closing while he was engaged in trimming a patron's hair, and the luckless occupant of the barber's chair was forced to plead with the policeman before the barber was allowed to finish his work. The barber was then taken to police headquarters where he was released with a warning.

MILLIONS BACK OF GATES.

The Great Financier Is Facing the Fight of His Life to Control May Wheat.

CHICAGO, April 16.—(Special.)—John W. Gates is facing the fight of his life in the great May wheat deal. Far more valuable than the money loss that he may meet is the possibility of defeat that would cost him the prestige that he values so highly. The force of events is daily bringing him more into the light as the active person in the deal and making apparent the intensity of interests involved on both sides.

The line-up on the Gates side is composed of multi-millionaires, associates and sympathizers in New York, St. Louis and Minneapolis. The eastern men know little about wheat, but they believe in Gates. They went into the deal before it looked as large or involved as many adverse problems as now. The western men involved know a great deal about wheat and are ranged with Gates because they have believed, until recently at least, that his position was sound.

SHONTS TO HEAD PANAMA RAILROAD

Secretary Taft Says He Is to Be Made President at Meeting Today.

WILL REORGANIZE COMPANY

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—Secretary of War Taft, who is here to attend the annual meeting of the directors of the Panama Railroad Company in this city tomorrow, had this to say tonight on the affairs of the railroad:

"The annual meeting will result in a complete reorganization of the company. The government is now in control of all stock. It is absolutely essential for us to control the affairs of the railroad in the interest of the work of constructing the canal. We desire to have the affairs of the road conducted in harmony with the commission which will have charge of the general construction work.

"With this end in view the directors of the Panama Railroad Company at their meeting Monday will elect Theodore P. Shonts, the new chairman of the Panama canal commission, president of the Panama Railroad Company.

"With Mr. Shonts at the head of the company it is certain that its affairs will be conducted most satisfactorily. His experience as a practical railroad man will enable him to operate this railroad just as the Panama canal commission may desire while the work of construction is in progress. The entire official board of the company will be comprised of either members of the commission or men who are interested in the work of constructing the canal. By official board I mean the officers and directors of the company.

"We expect to have this road in readiness at the time the work of the canal construction begins and managed in a manner so as to facilitate this great task."

RUSSIANS STILL FLEE IN NORTH MANCHURIA

Japanese Take Yingeching and Pachiatzu—Arsenal Employes Cheer the Mikado.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

TOKYO, April 16, (Noon).—The following official announcement was made today:

"The force advancing north from Singking, driving the enemy before them, occupied Yingecheng, 38 miles north of Singking, at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of April 14. A detachment of the same force, co-operating with cavalry, occupied Pachiatzu at 6 o'clock in the evening of the same day. The enemy's force near Pachiatzu consisted of seven sotnias of cavalry and one battery of artillery. They first retreated toward Yingcheng, then came back to Pachiatzu. Finding it occupied, they were thrown into confusion and they retreated in great disorder over Peling pass, two miles north of Pachiatzu. There is no change elsewhere."

Thirty thousand employes of the arsenal paraded today in celebration of the fall of Mukden. They visited the palace and cheered the emperor and afterward went to the war and navy departments and cheered the ministers and their staffs.

SIPINGHAI, April 16.—Captured Japanese spies place the number of the Japanese army at 400,000, and state that the losses at the battle of Mukden are already being replaced by drafts from home battalions. Lieut. Komayashi, one of the spies, calculates that the Japanese losses at Mukden were over 100,000.

LONDON, April 17.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to a news agency reports that Gen. Linevitch has issued an order forbidding officials of the commissariat to burn stores prematurely. The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokyo reports that the Japanese recovered 200 of the 500 guns which the Russians abandoned in the retreat from Mukden.

PRESIDENT STORM-BOUND.

Fierce Blizzard Raging and Mr. Roosevelt and Party Stay in Camp.

NEW CASTLE, COLO., April 16.—A fierce blizzard is raging at Camp Roosevelt. So severe is the storm that no one ventures out of doors. The greater part of the time is spent by the president and party around the camp fire telling hunting stories.

A mail carrier has verified the report that the president killed a large cinnamon bear with the first shot he fired. It required several hours' chase to bring the animal to bay.

NEW BLOOD IS NOT NECESSARY

Policy Holders in Life Insurance Concerns Pay All the Expenses.

COMPANIES TAKE NO RISKS

Special Telegram From
HENRY J. FORD, Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 16.—It has been pointed out that the basic principle of life insurance is that the premiums collected are sufficient, when invested, even at a low rate of interest, to provide the entire amount of indemnity called for by the policy. It follows that new business is not essential to the financial stability of any company which has already obtained risks enough to insure average mortality experience. It is important for policyholders to grasp this fact as it will enable them to gauge the significance of the scramble for new business now going on, and to put a proper valuation upon the hand which insurance agents are now taking in the affairs of the Equitable.

While many companies are acting as if "new blood" was necessary to their continued existence, the principle referred to is fully admitted by them in official statements. President Alexander, in a lecture which he delivered in the Yale insurance course last year, said: "The amounts annually charged for the indemnity of life insurance—commonly called the premiums—are calculated to cover the pure losses by mortality, and next—through the 'loading'—to cover expenses and variations." The New York Mutual in its "Educational Leaflets" for the instruction of agents, says: "The 'loading' is not for expenses only, but is intended to provide for all possible contingencies, such as mortality in excess of the tabular rate, interest earned less than the assumed rate, depreciation in value of securities, loss of invested funds," etc.

Company Takes No Chances.

It will be seen that the company practically takes no risks; the policyholders pay for everything—even the remote chance that funds cannot be invested at the low rate of 3½ per cent. Hence it follows, as these "Educational Leaflets" explicitly declare, that a company might cease writing new business altogether and pay all policies in full.

Not only is the accession of new risks unnecessary for the security of existing policyholders, but it is conceivable that new risks might cost so much as to constitute an impairment of the reserve belonging to the existing policyholders. If the new risks cost more than the contributions which they make to the reserve fund, it is a mathematical certainty that this is the case, so that the efforts which the Equitable is now making to force new business at extra cost discredits the fundamental principle of life insurance. With its 600,000 of policyholders it is assured of a mortality experience better than that assumed in the actuary tables, which are admitted to exaggerate mortality risks, and could well afford to wait until the process of reorganization and reform upon which it is entering is complete.

Indeed, it would be a stroke of policy in thorough accord with the mathematical principles of life insurance for any large company to retire altogether from the solicitation of new business, and such a company would be in a position of superior strength as regards life insurance while perhaps it might not be so useful as an annex to trust companies. The weak point of life insurance today is this very matter of new business, the cost of which has been so advanced by competition as to constitute a serious drain upon life insurance resources.

A Matter of Investigation.

In official statements the commission allowed to agents, if mentioned at all, is given as 40 per cent on the first premium and a small commission thereafter on renewals. Contracts for commissions even provide in some cases for continuance after the death of the agent or termination of his connection with the company. The large amounts to which even these deferred commissions may run has been forcibly impressed upon the public recently by the report that Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president of the Equitable, sold to that company for $135,000 the renewal commissions which were still due him upon business he did for the company years ago. Just what rates of commission are paid both upon first premiums and renewals is a matter which invites official investigation.

There are plenty of people who know that commissions upon first premiums must be over the announced rate of 40 per cent, as agents have been known to offer much more than that as a rebate to customers as an inducement to take out a policy. On top of the commissions are the bonuses paid to agents doing the most business in their respective territory and on top of all this now comes

Mr. Tarbell's offer of an extra bonus of $4 a thousand to Equitable agents for new business written during this storm period. It is pretty safe to say that new business gotten under such circumstances will not pay for the indemnity which the company contracts to give for it, and hence is at the expense of the assets pledged to the existing policyholders.

Breaking Up Rebate System.

The companies are well aware that the scramble for new business is a demoralizing factor in life insurance, and efforts have been made to correct this abuse. The granting of rebates is contrary to law. In 1887 Massachusetts prohibited rebates in life insurance, and 25 other states have similar laws. Ten years ago the leading companies made a resolute effort to break up the illicit practice. On October 12, 1895, representatives of 23 companies met in this city and signed an anti-rebate contract by which they bound themselves and their agents not to rebate, and to dismiss and not employ for one year thereafter any of their agents whom the official referee of the compact might find guilty of rebating.

For a time ex-Speaker Reed was this official referee. A few agents were tripped up and punished, but rebating went on and in 1899 the compact was dissolved. So long as big commissions and bonuses are allowed it is bound to flourish, as when an agent shares commissions with a customer the customer is not likely to testify against him. Appreciating this fact some leading companies went to work to reform conditions. One of the big mutual companies has for years past been putting salaried officers in charge of districts as fast as commission contracts could be terminated, and this is undoubtedly sound policy. Even if it results in marked diminution of new business the company will be much stronger for the change. In fact it will be a proud position for any company to occupy to be able to say, "We do not solicit new business, but if you are a desirable risk and come to us we will take care of you." But to promote this development the public must get rid of the superstition that new business means added strength.

Big Gains Without Profit.

During the past year the attacks to which the leading insurance companies were subjected in the "graft" articles which gave the sensational feature of some of the magazines, appear to have incited special activity to get new business, and as a result each of the "Big Three" reports enormous gains, but only in the report of the New York Life are any details given of the cost. According to its report commissions on bonuses to agents in first year's premiums, together with medical examiner's fees, amount to over 157 per cent of the receipts from this source. The briefest published report of any is that of the New York Mutual, which gives no analysis of income save the two headings, "received for premiums" and "from other sources." Disbursements are lumped under the three heads of "death claims," "endowments, dividends," etc., and "for all other accounts." The Equitable report gives each item of disbursements covering "commissions, advertising, postage and sundries," but all premium receipts are lumped together, so it is impossible to form from the reports given out by the company to the public any idea of the cost of new business. It appears, however, that while the company reports having written $222,920,037 new insurance during the year, the total amount of insurance in force increased only $85,024,150. As the amount terminable by payment of death claims and mature endowments was $26,475,480, there is a difference of $110,820,308 to be accounted for, presumably insurance allowed to lapse. This suggests the possibility that a good deal of new insurance is really simply short term insurance, taken out because the rebate offered puts it below actual cost for the first year.

That, at any rate, is an argument frequently heard in connection with those rebate deals, the objection that so much insurance cannot be carried being met with the remark that even if it is let go, it is such a bargain that it ought to be taken even if never renewed. Thus the rebate practice, while it may swell the year's business and make a fictitious showing of growth, is really a detriment to the company, and an injury to the existing policy holders. It is because the calculated mortality risks are much higher than the real, or in other words, insurance is charged for at rates much in excess of its mathematical cost, that the companies are able to stand this drain without affecting their stability. Reform of life insurance management would permit a lowering of rates to be made without affecting the stability of the companies or the security of the insurance.

HYDE FACTION CLAIMS POINTS

ALSO MEMBER OF SYNDICATE

Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 16.

Two points were scored by the Hyde faction today in the fight for supremacy in the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance society. Men in sympathy with Mr. Hyde declared tonight that they have absolute proof that Mr. Alexander is not only a member of the syndicate whose transactions netted Mr. Hyde more than $90,000, but that he has placed in escrow with the cashier of the society a sum amounting to about $30,000, which is being held subject to action of the board of directors.

The other point made by the Hyde faction was that Mr. Alexander and his close relatives are now drawing from the Equitable nearly $200,000 a year in salaries and retainers. This is pertinent to the inquiry which Henry C. Frick, chairman of the investigating committee, makes in his letter of last Thursday to Mr. Alexander.

Mr. Frick, in outlining the questions which he wishes the Equitable's officers to answer, asks that Mr. Alexander shall state who of the employes of the society are related by blood or marriage to any one of the directors or principal officers or to heads of departments, the degree of such relationship and the name of the officer or head of department to whom such employes are related.

A list of the members of the Alexander family who, it was declared, draw a total of $190,000 a year from the Equitable treasury, will be presented to Mr. Frick as an offset to any similar list which it may be the intention of the Alexander faction to submit showing that Mr. Hyde is employing relatives. It was denied that Mr. Hyde has any blood relations drawing salaries from the company.

It was admitted that several remote relatives of Henry B. Hyde had been employed by the founder at small salaries. These men, it was said, were employed in minor capacities. The only other relative of Mr. Hyde who held high position in the society was the late Sidney Dillon Ripley, who was its treasurer up to the time of his death. Mr. Ripley was James H. Hyde's brother-in-law, and represented the stock of his wife, who is the only daughter of Henry B. Hyde.

MILITIAMAN VICTIM OF MYSTERIOUS ASSAULT

Capt. Lewis N. Baker Is Found in a Semi-Conscious Condition, but Is Not Seriously Hurt.

Capt. Lewis N. Baker of Company D., Fourteenth regiment, was found prostrate upon the floor of the company rooms in the Boyle's block, Federal street, Allegheny, shortly after 11 o'clock last night, and much mystery surrounds the case.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Baker had sent Sidney A. Stevens, a private in his company, across the street to secure some sandwiches and postage stamps. When Stevens returned he found Capt. Baker outstretched upon the floor and in a semi-conscious condition. The room was greatly disarranged and company papers were scattered about the floor. Several bruises were upon Baker's arm, while his forehead was discolored. He was hurried to the Allegheny General hospital, where it was said he was suffering from a slight contusion and would be out in the morning.

In a statement made at the hospital, Baker claims two strangers entered in Stevens' absence and struck him in the forehead with some instrument. Stevens and William Brown, a negro employed in the building, were placed under arrest by the police. Baker was elected captain of the company on February 20 and an inquiry into a charge of election by fraud will be held in Old City hall tomorrow evening.

DECK-HANDS GET POLICE AFTER MATE OF PACKET

Said an Officer of the Queen City Had Pushed a Roustabout Overboard.

Eight negro deckhands, who had been employed on the packet Queen City, came to Central station last night and informed Capt. Thomas McCabe they did not care to remain on board of the boat because the mate, James Connelly, had pushed Frank Horton, a negro deckhand, ever board at Bellaire, and they feared they might meet the same fate. They asked for lodging for the night.

Detectives were detailed to the wharfboat where the packet was moored and Mate Connelly told them Horton fell overboard by accident and said the roustabouts reported the story for the purpose of securing a night's lodging. Mate Connelly said every effort was made to rescue the negro. He slipped off a plank and was washed away before the crew could get to him.

The mate said the negroes reported the same story to the police at Wheeling and he was detained there two hours pending an investigation. When the detectives heard Connelly's story they returned to the station house and the roustabouts were "rousted" out of their cells to hunt shelter elsewhere.

FIRE IN A REFINERY.

A fire in the refinery of the Lake Carriers Oil Company on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad in Coraopolis, which broke out at 8:30 o'clock last night, damaged the plant to the extent of about $1,500, according to Superintendent H. B. Sedgeley.

The fire originated at a pipe connection to the refining reservoir, and before the fire department could fight the flames the whole tank was blazing, lighting up the town. It required two hours to drain off the oil, and then the flames subsided. Not a great quantity of oil was burned, the greatest damage being to the huge tank and pipe connections, which were burned through.

Dr. Moffat on Practical Religion.

Four hundred people attended the twenty-third anniversary services of the Sharpsburg and Etna Young Men's Christian association in the Union Centenary Methodist Episcopal church of Sharpsburg last night. The Rev. J. D. Moffat delivered the address. "Whether Jonah swallowed the whale, or the whale swallowed Jonah," he declared, "is of no more importance to practical religion than whether the moon is made of green cheese or not."

MR. CARNEGIE TO BE ASKED TO GIVE NEW ORGAN TO JAIL

The Instrument Now in Use Is Old and Wheezy. James R. Reed Will Make the Request of the Multi-Millionaire.

Another channel for the disbursement of Andrew Carnegie's millions has been discovered, although it is in line with the multi-millionaire's previous benefactions. He is to be asked to donate a new pipe organ to the Allegheny county jail.

The proposition will be made by James R. Reed, the Market street jeweler. Mr. Reed takes a great interest in prisons and prisoners, is a member of the board of inspection of the Western penitentiary and of the County Ministerial association. In his official capacity in the latter institution he has been conducting the Sunday services at the jail during this month. Yesterday he was assisted by the choir of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hazelwood, the song service being augmented by the boy choir of that church also, a chorus of 20 voices. Joseph Steiner, the conductor, directed the music, which consisted of four Easter anthems, besides several hymns, and a short sermon was delivered by George Greer, a student at the Reformed Presbyterian Theological seminary in Allegheny, who will graduate in June. He is a cousin of Deputy Jail Warden John McNeil.

The whole service was so interesting that Mr. Reed asked and was given permission to continue it beyond the one hour usually allotted. He said afterward that the only discordant note came from the wheezy old organ in the jail, and that a new one would add materially to the pleasure of holding services there. He recalled that Henry Phipps had paid for the very excellent conservatory at the penitentiary, and he did not know but Andrew Carnegie, his former partner, would agree to give the jail an organ if he was asked to do so, as organs and libraries are Mr. Carnegie's contributions to the people.

Mr. Reed said he would write a letter to Mr. Carnegie in any event and tell him of the needs of such an instrument in the jail, where the regular Sunday services are heard by many who never hear any in any other place.

RUSSIAN IRON WORKS IN STATE OF SIEGE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 17.—A state of siege exists in the Narva quarter, owing to the suspension of the Putiloff iron works. Soldiers are stationed inside the works and Cossacks and police swarm in the surrounding streets. The district has the same appearance as during the disturbances last January. The tension yesterday was great, especially when a policeman shot a workman who had drawn a revolver on him. The bodies of the two workmen, who were accidentally killed at the iron works and whose funerals their fellows had planned to make a great political demonstration, were interred at daybreak, in compliance with police orders to avoid a demonstration.

The Son of the Fatherland, now the leading exponent of constitutionalism, today fiercely denounces the manner in which it alleges bureaucracy is trying to defeat the war which all Russia is waging against it. It charges the bureaucracy with inaugurating a systematic campaign to gag public opinion.

MOSCOW, April 16.—The water works congress, attended by 350 representatives from all parts of Russia, opened today with a stormy scene. Representatives of the engineering and other technical societies endeavored to divert the meeting to political purposes. Resolutions were offered that the congress refrain from discussing the objects for which it had met, because "fruitful work is impossible until we can see free life dawn for Russia." The resolution was rejected and order was finally restored.

PRESIDENT WILL BE GUEST OF TEACHERS

Chief Executive to Attend the Meeting of National Educational Association.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—With the president of the United States as the chief guest, and leading educators from all sections of the United States among the speakers, the next general session of the National Educational association, which will be held in Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, N. J., next July, promises to be the most notable in the association's history. The meetings will begin Monday, July 3, and continue five days. An elaborate program has been completed. On the first day President William H. Maxwell, city superintendent of schools, New York, will deliver his annual address, while William T. Harris, United States commissioner of education, will speak on "The Future of Teachers' Salaries," and F. Skiff, director of the Field Columbian museum of Chicago, Ill., on "The Uses of Educational Museums."

Mayor George B. McClellan of New York city will speak Tuesday. Andrew S. Draper, state commissioner of education, New York, will tell of "The Nation's Educational Purpose." "American Idealism" will be the subject of an address by Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia. Wednesday will be devoted almost entirely to consideration of topics bearing upon child education. The subjects on Thursday will include "Manual Training in the Grades," by Lorenzo D. Harvey, superintendent of schools of Menominee, Wis.

President Roosevelt will deliver the principal address of the meeting on Friday. His subject, however, has not been announced. Response to the president's address will be made by John R. Kirke, superintendent of schools of Kirkville, Mo., and others.

ONE ITALIAN IS DYING; THE OTHER IS IN JAIL

With a severe bullet wound in his intestines, Raffael Costabile lies in the Homeopathic hospital at the point of death and may die at any moment. His assailant, Tony Grande, is locked up in the East Pittsburgh jail and has confessed to the shooting. The quarrel occurred along the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Bessemer, formerly Port Perry, between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Some hours later Constable P. J. Hanley of East Pittsburgh telephoned to Chief County Detective Robinson telling him of the crime. Robinson dispatched five men to the scene with a bloodhound, but on reaching there at 9 o'clock they learned that Grande had been captured after a chase by Hanley and the man hunt failed to take place.

Costabile and Grande are Italians and laborers on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, the former being about 27 years of age and the latter 35. The trouble has been of long standing.

Immediately after the shooting Grande ran up the steep hill just the other side of the tracks and thence into McKeesport. From McKeesport he crossed the bridge into Duquesne, going directly to his home. Hanley waited for him and arrested him at 5:30 when he left the house. A fully loaded 38 caliber revolver and a jackknife were found on him when searched at the jail.

BLESSED STATUES OF IRISH SAINTS

St. Patrick's and St. Bridget's Effigies Blessed at St. Patrick's Church.

Handsome statues of St. Bridget and St. Patrick, presented by Thomas Burns, a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church, were blessed last night in the presence of a big congregation. St. Patrick's church is considered the mother church of the English-speaking Catholic congregations of Allegheny and Pittsburgh, being the oldest in Pittsburgh.

The Rev. M. Hehir, president of the Pittsburgh college, officiated at the blessing of the statues, being assisted by the pastor, Father William Graham, and the assistant pastor, Father P. Hesson. The blessing of the statues was conducted according to the ritual of the Catholic church. Father Hehir preached the sermon, taking his text from John xvii:22, "The glory Thou hast given me I have given to them."

The preacher began his sermon by explaining the worship of God in its exterior and interior forms, the homage paid by Catholics to the saints and to the relics of the saints, and the honor they show to statues and images of the saints. He gave a sketch of the life of St. Patrick, dwelt on his work among the heathen Irish and gave an account of the mission and work of his co-laborer, St. Bridget. Father Hehir praised the sacerdotal and missionary spirit of the Irish race, showing that within three centuries after St. Patrick Irish missionaries had spread to all parts of Europe and in the last few centuries helped to Christianize the new world.

The Irish people were grateful to St. Patrick and St. Bridget, as evidenced by the number of children baptized with those names and the many churches named after the two saints in Ireland, England, Scotland, Australia, Canada and the United States. Father Hehir sketched the history of St. Patrick's congregation, its first church having been built in 1810. In 1856 it was pulled down to make way for the Union station and was rebuilt at the head of Fourteenth street, and in 1865 it was erected as it stands today, at Seventeenth and Liberty streets.

A large congregation was present at the blessing of a fine statue of the Savior in the Tomb, at St. Mary's church, Fifty-seventh street, the Rev. John Mertel, pastor. The statue, made in the highest style of the art, was presented by several members of the church.

WIFE BEATER ARRESTED THRICE IN THREE DAYS

Boarders Summon Police, Who Break Into Bedroom to Get Husband.

Arrested the third time in three days on the same charge, William McCullough of 3606 Fifth avenue, was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate Negley at the Oakland police station yesterday morning, for beating his wife. On Thursday he was arrested on this charge and was held for court. Friday night he became very abusive and choked his wife. She had him arrested and on Saturday morning he was fined $50 and costs, which he paid.

Saturday night, about 11:30 o'clock, boarders in the house were awakened by the loud and abusive language McCullough was using toward his wife. One of the boarders went to No. 4 police station and summoned the police. The officers were admitted to the house and went upstairs to the room occupied by McCullough and his wife. They could hear him talking to her in a loud tone, telling her that he would get even with her for causing him to be confined in the station house.

Mrs. McCullough screamed and the police broke open the door and took McCullough to the police station. McCullough is a structural iron worker and has lived in Pittsburgh for several years. Last December he moved his family here from Indiana county, where he owns a farm. Since coming to Pittsburgh he has drunk considerably. It was while under the influence of liquor that he assaulted his wife. The couple have been married 22 years. Mrs. McCullough says she will leave for Portland, Ore., where she will make her home with brothers.

GASOLINE MOTOR CAR TEST.

Union Pacific Will Place One in Use for Suburban Traffic Today.

OMAHA, NEB., April 16.—Railway officials today who made the 200-mile trip in the Union Pacific gasoline motor car, which will be placed in commission by that road tomorrow, express the opinion that the success of the car will result in a revolution of suburban and branch line railroad passenger and freight service. Today's test of the Union Pacific car was the final one before placing it in practical service between Grand Island and St. Paul, Neb.

The car, which was built purely as an experiment, seats 20 persons, and in the forward end, where is located the gasoline motor, is a space for baggage. The regular service cars, construction of which will be begun at once, will be 50 feet long, will seat 55 passengers and accommodate their baggage.

MISS ROOSEVELT RIDES WELL.

The Little Race Horse Recently Purchased by President's Daughter Is Much Attached to Her.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(Special.)—Jessylin, the little race horse purchased by Miss Alice Roosevelt at Bennings, is proving herself quite the thoroughbred she was thought to be, and already her new mistress is riding her. She has become quite attached to Miss Roosevelt already and takes sugar from her hand.

Miss Roosevelt looks very well mounted and has a very chic habit, which consists of a black skirt, short enough to give a glimpse of smart tan boots, coat to match, of course, and a black derby hat. She rides with the ease of the fearless.

ECKERT AND HECK ARE FOUND DEAD

RELATIVES FIND THE BODIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 16.—Louis Heck, Jr., musical director of Keith's Chestnut Street theater, and his wife, known on the vaudeville stage as Maybelle Eckert, were found asphyxiated by gas today in the bedroom of their flat at Carlisle and Lombard streets, this city. Two burners on a chandelier in the room were turned on. Whether the couple had deliberately planned to end their lives together or whether their deaths were an accident, has not yet been definitely determined, but the coroner tonight is inclined to believe they died through accident.

The finding of their bodies was attended by rather sad circumstances. T. W. Eckert of San Francisco, the father of the dead woman, and his wife, who are on the vaudeville stage, and who had completed an engagement in New York yesterday and were to appear in Washington next week, had planned to dine this evening with his daughter and her husband. They were to have been met at the Pennsylvania railroad station on their arrival from New York this afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Heck. As they failed to meet them Mr. and Mrs. Eckert went to the house, and the finding of the bodies of their daughter and son-in-law followed. Mrs. Heck's body was found lying on a couch. The body of the husband was on the floor in a sitting posture, with the head resting on the body of the wife. The coroner's physician said Mrs. Heck had been dead about 16 hours.

The last seen of the husband alive was when he left the theater about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the wife was seen for the last time about 5:30 yesterday afternoon, when a neighbor spoke to her. There was no note or other direct evidence found to indicate suicide. Mr. and Mrs. Heck were married about 5 years ago and were much devoted to one another. They were well known in vaudeville, having traveled as a musical team under the name of "Eckert and Heck." About three years ago Heck left the stage to become musical director of Keith's theater in this city, but his wife from time to time appeared on the stage in musical and singing specialties.

Mr. Eckert will not make arrangements for the funeral of the couple until he hears from Louis Heck of Topeka, Kan., the father of the dead man.

PAWNBROKER IS UNABLE TO IDENTIFY SMITH

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—With her third trial on the charge of murdering "Caesar" Young set for tomorrow, Nan Patterson today attended religious services in the Tombs for the first time since she was placed in prison following the tragedy in June last. With her sister, Mrs. J. Morgan Smith, who is in the Tombs under indictment charging conspiracy to extort money from Young, the Patterson girl went to the Catholic chapel.

It is said that Hymen Stern, the pawnbroker from whom it is alleged the pistol with which Young was killed was bought, has been unable to identify J. Morgan Smith and a serious question has arisen at the district attorney's office as to whether or not the Smiths will be called as witnesses at the forthcoming trial. The law officers, however, decline to make an official statement on this point.

ASK AID FOR UNIVERSITY.

Representatives of Institution of Learning for Poor Whites of Tennessee Mountain Districts Seek Funds Here.

President John H. Race of the Grant university of Chattanooga and Athens, Tenn., and the Rev. Dr. William R. Webster of the same institution, are at the Seventh Avenue hotel and will spend several days in the city in the interest of securing a $200,000 endowment fund for their institution.

Yesterday morning they occupied the pulpit of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, Allegheny, and in the evening spoke in the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church in the interests of the university.

The institution is conducted for the purpose of educating the whites in the mountain districts, the greater portion of whom have no financial means. The university has been highly indorsed by representative Americans as being a great force in solving the race problem in bringing the uneducated whites to higher plane of understanding. Boys and girls, to the number of 910, are now under the care of the university, while 62 professors are engaged. Liberal arts, theology, medicine, law and a business training are among the courses provided.

RAISE COLOR QUESTION.

Students at Eastman College Petition the President for Dismissal of Alleged Negro.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 16.—(Special.)—One hundred and sixty students in Eastman college in this city today signed a petition to the president of the college, asking that O. V. Daniels of St. Louis, West Indies, alleged to be a negro, be at once dismissed from the college. Daniels has been in the college for a week. President Gaines tried to reason with the petitioners. He said the young man's father is of Danish ancestry and his mother a Porto Rican, but the students insisted.

It was said tonight that Mr. Daniels, who is but 17 years old, had concluded to leave tomorrow for his home, saying he did not care to attend school where there was such a feeling against him.

FIRE RUINS RESIDENCE.

Occupant Is Seriously Burned and Wife Has Narrow Escape.

The second story of the home of John Sahr, in Shaler township, near Etna, was gutted by fire yesterday evening, causing a loss of about $200. Mr. Sahr was seriously burned about the head in fighting the blaze.

The fire, of unknown origin, was discovered by Mrs. Sahr, who escaped with difficulty from the burning room. Fifty men were required to pull the Etna hose cart through the snow and mud up the steep hill to the house. The fire was extinguished by a bucket brigade formed by firemen and neighbors.

ATTACK ON AMERICAN BOARD

SARATOGA, N. Y., April 16.—Russell Sage was arraigned by the Rev. Dr. G. P. Eckman, pastor of St. Paul's church, New York, who was referred to recently by Senator Depew as "the strongest man in Methodism," before the Troy conference today. He called him "a stingy old scalawag." He also declared it would be better if Mr. Carnegie would supplement his gifts to colleges and libraries with appropriations for ministers. "It was through the influence of a Christian civilization," Dr. Eckman said, "that Mr. Carnegie amassed his great fortune. The salary paid to the pastor is inadequate and he has no opportunity to save money. He must give himself to a single work and not dabble in secular pursuits. The exactions of the Christian minister are such as to demand assistance in his old age. These aged men are not beggars, but preferred creditors of the church."

CHICAGO, April 16.—Words of warning of the dangers apt to follow marriages of Jews with non-Jews were spoken today by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch, in his sermon in Sinai temple. He said: "The Jews should guard jealously against the marriage of Jew and non-Jew, except in the rare case where a true affinity based on agreement in the fundamental things of life has been found and tested."

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 16.—The Rev. Artemus J. Haynes, pastor of the United Congregational church of this city, in his sermon today referred to the American board's acceptance of the Rockefeller gift. The finding of the committee he characterized as "a document which might have been prepared by a corporation lawyer, filled with sophistry, evasions, excuses and legal quibbles and not one sentence from beginning to end ringing true."

PICTURE OF A CZAR IS CURTIN'S PORTION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELLEFONTE, April 16.—W. W. Curtin of Philadelphia, a son of the late ex-Gov. Andrew G. Curtin of this place, has received a picture as his portion of his father's estate. It was the one thing the other heirs were least disposed to give. When the "War Governor" was in St. Petersburg as minister to Russia, a friendship was formed between him and Czar Alexander II., grandfather of the present czar.

When Mr. Curtin's appointment expired in 1872 the czar gave him a magnificent life-size oil painting of himself. It arrived in this country in 1873 and for six months was on exhibition in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia. Ever since its reception by the Curtin family here it has been the greatest prized article in their home. After the death of Mrs. Curtin, W. W. Curtin proposed that if the picture were given him he would renounce all claims to any further part of the estate of his father.

After months of deliberation the majority of the heirs agreed to the son's proposition. The picture has been shipped to Mr. Curtin and it will adorn his Philadelphia home.

FOURTH SUICIDE ATTEMPT PROVES SUCCESSFUL

She had made three unsuccessful attempts to commit suicide, each time being prevented by train men. She had a card bearing the address, "William Kroutz, 31 Beech street, Paterson, N. J., Nord Amerika." The woman came to Altoona on a morning train.

BANDIT FATALLY SHOT IN KENTUCKY BATTLE

OWINGSVILLE, KY., April 16.—(Special.)—A hundred men are searching the mountains of Estill county tonight for a gang of bandits who robbed the postoffice at Wagersville. St. Louis Releases Butler.

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—(Special.)—Butler, the young catcher drafted from Kansas City by the Cardinals last fall, was released back to that team yesterday, as there was no room for him on the St. Louis club. With Beckley back on first, Grady is in a position to do regular duty behind the bat, and with Warner, Grady and Zearfoss, Nichols has no use for another catcher.

My Offer to Kidney Sufferers

I will give you a full dollar's worth of my remedy free to try without cost or deposit or promise to pay.

I could not make this offer—a full dollar's worth free—if mine were an ordinary kidney remedy. It is not. It treats not the kidneys themselves, but the nerves that control them. The cause of kidney trouble lies ALWAYS in these nerves. The only way to cure kidney trouble is by strengthening and vitalizing and restoring these kidney nerves. That is exactly what my remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—does. Therefore, I can make this offer with the certain knowledge that every kidney sufferer who makes this trial will be helped.

When I say "nerves," I do not mean the ordinary nerves of feeling, thought, action. I mean the automatic nerves, which night and day, unguided and unseen, control and actuate and operate every vital process of life. These are the master nerves. The kidneys are their slaves. Your mind cannot control them. Your will cannot sway them. Yet when they are strong, you are well; when they are not, you weaken and die.

I have written a book on the Kidneys which will be sent when you write. This book explains fully and clearly how these tiny, tender "inside" nerves control not only the kidneys but each of the other vital organs.

I have made my offer that strangers to my remedy may know. It is not intended for or open to those who have used my remedy. They need no further evidence. But to those who have not heard, or hearing, may have delayed or doubted, I say "simply write and ask." I will send you an order for which your druggist will hand you a full dollar bottle—and he will send the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements—simply write me today.

Alleghenians Plan to Delay Annexation Past Next April by Litigation.

OPPONENTS GO TO CAPITAL

Three Alleghenians who have been taking the most prominent part in fighting annexation will appear before Gov. Pennypacker this afternoon to make arguments against the Greater Pittsburgh bill passed by the legislature last week and awaiting the governor's signature. These three men are William C. Gill, chairman of the so-called "public defense committee," Harvey Henderson and former Gov. Stone.

Mr. Gill left this morning at 8 o'clock for Harrisburg and Mr. Henderson will leave later this morning in time to arrive at Harrisburg for the hearing. Ex-Gov. Stone went to Philadelphia Saturday and will go to the state capital today.

Mr. Gill stated last night that the three speakers would attack the constitutionality of the Greater Pittsburgh bill, because Allegheny is not given a separate vote.

"The bill may not be in direct contravention of the constitution of the state, but the inequity of a joint vote is so obvious that the bill borders so closely on being unconstitutional that the governor should veto it to be fair to the people of Allegheny," said Mr. Gill.

Will File Exceptions.

"If the governor does not act as we wish and veto the bill we will wait until a petition is presented to the county court for an election and then we will file exceptions.

"If the court overrules our exceptions we, or any other citizen of Allegheny, may file a bill in equity to prevent an election. Then, if an election should be held and the vote be in favor of annexation, we can still go into court and endeavor to prevent annexation. If the attorneys for the other side would join with us we could speed the case and have a decision by the supreme court on the bill by fall, so that, if the supreme court should declare the law constitutional, annexation could take place at the time set, the first of April. If the attorneys for the other side do not desire to do this we can drag the case along past next April and prevent annexation at least until the succeeding April. Under the Greater Pittsburgh bill if annexation does not take place the first of April, 1906, it cannot take place until April, 1907.

Bigelow Ready to Act.

"I believe that if Allegheny had a separate vote and an election was held now annexation would be defeated. Although I hear expressions both for and against annexation in Allegheny, I believe that the majority of our people are opposed to it."

Director Bigelow said last night that a meeting of select council would be called to introduce an ordinance petitioning the county court for an election as soon as Gov. Pennypacker signs the bill. The ordinance is already prepared by the city solicitor. If the ordinance is introduced this week the finance committee will be called at once to oppose it and councils will pass it next Monday at their regular semi-monthly session.

CROWDS VIEW FLOWERS.

Great Interest Taken in the Show at the Allegheny Conservatories—Squirrels for the Parks.

Most of the flowers which have been prepared for the Easter show in the Allegheny conservatory in West park were in bloom yesterday and during the day, despite the inclement weather, a large crowd visited the conservatory. Much interest is being taken by North Side residents in the flower show this year and it promises to equal any show given on Easter Sunday in past years.

The azaleas, lilies, tulips and about 20,000 bulbs of various kinds are scattered in profusion throughout the greenhouses. In one greenhouse a large pyramid of lilies and other flowers are attracting much attention.

Among the improvements which Director McIlvain has in view for the North Side parks is one which he expects to be as great an amusement to the children as the swans which have been seen for years on the lake in West park. Director McIlvain proposes to establish colonies of squirrels in the East and West parks and in Riverview park.

The director has recalled the fact that the little animals are nowhere to be found in the public parks in this section outside of the few squirrels which are running wild and which flee at sight of a person. In Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and New Orleans the little squirrels can be seen in the parks, and the director intends to establish colonies of them in the parks on the North Side.

WILLIAM LIVSEY DIES.

He Was State Treasurer Three Times, Was Identified With Pittsburgh Finance and Moved to Detroit.

William Livsey, former state treasurer of Pennsylvania, died yesterday in Detroit, Mich., of apoplexy. Mr. Livsey went to Detroit from Pittsburgh five years ago, to be near his only son.

Years ago Mr. Livsey was prominently identified with Pittsburgh financial institutions. He was elected by the people state treasurer in 1884 and served until 1886. In 1887 he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator M. S. Quay, which ended in 1888. On November 13, 1889, he was again appointed state treasurer to fill the unexpired term of William B. Hart, and served out the term, which ended in May, 1890.

Mr. Livsey, who was 72 years old when he died, was born in England, was a veteran of the Crimean war and served in the Union army in the Civil war. He will be buried in Watertown, Wis.

HOSPITAL PLANS ASSUMING SHAPE

Jewish Association Has Money Raised—May Start Building Operations Soon.

SEVERAL SITES ARE IN VIEW

Plans are rapidly assuming shape for the erection of a building for the new Montefiore hospital within the next few months. The Montefiore Hospital association is a Jewish organization which was organized on December 15, 1904. A charter was secured a month ago, and since that time many promises of financial support have been received.

The idea of organizing a non-sectarian hospital under Jewish control originated with the women of the Hebrew Ladies' Hospital Aid society six or seven years ago. In most of the other large cities of the country, such as New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Baltimore, Cincinnati and Cleveland, there are Jewish hospitals, as well as charitable organizations under Jewish control, and the need of a similar institution here has been growing of late years.

Through the efforts of the women a plot of ground has been secured at Reed, near Roberts street, adjoining the Passavant hospital in the Hill district, and between $10,000 and $15,000 has been raised for the erection of a building. The lot has a frontage on Reed street of 200 feet and is 260 feet deep. The ground is valued at about $15,000.

Some objection is being made to building there, however, because of the proximity of the Passavant hospital and Meyer Rosenthal, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Montefiore Hospital association, has been looking about for a more suitable location. At a meeting of the organization yesterday afternoon, he said that he had two or three sites in view, but their location will not be made public at present.

Mr. Rosenthal also announced that he had received assurances of a considerable sum of money for building purposes as soon as plans are far enough advanced to permit of definite steps being taken for the erection of a building. He said that the hospital will be non-sectarian and that persons of every religious denomination will be received as patients. Asked whether the hospital would expect state aid he said:

"At this time it is impossible to look so far ahead. Of course, since we are to admit all persons free to our institution, we think it would be entirely fitting for the state to remember us with an appropriation. Our first aim, however, will be to fix definitely upon a site, and further details will take care of themselves."

The new structure will be up-to-date in every particular and contain both medical and surgical wards. Aside from the desire of the Jewish people of Pittsburgh to have a hospital which they shall control, it is felt that the institution is needed here because of the crowded condition of other hospitals.

FITTING UP CLUB HOUSE.

Business and Professional Men of Hill District to Have Handsome Building in Fifth Avenue.

Decorators are fitting up the building 1809 Fifth avenue at a home for the Harmony club, an organization composed of Hebrew business and professional men of the hill district. The club was chartered on November 1, 1904, and already has 72 members. The organization is purely social in character, and no expense will be spared in making the rooms comfortable and homelike.

The building is a two-story brick and contains 16 rooms. The present intention is that the club shall occupy the entire structure. There will be a restaurant service established in connection with the club, where business men may go for the noonday meal. The improvements will cost between $4,000 and $5,000, and will be completed by May 1.

FOOD SHOW OPENS TODAY.

Exhibit at Old City Hall Under the Auspices of the Retail Grocers' Association.

The first annual pure food show in this region will open this afternoon at Old City hall under the auspices of the Retail Grocers' Association of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The finishing touches have been put on the booths and exhibits, and the exhibitors are awaiting the opening of the doors of the big hall to the public. The doors will be open at 1:30 for the first time, and promptly at 2 o'clock the Second Brigade band, under the direction of Lieut. P. Dannhardt, will commence the first program.

The program for the concert this afternoon follows: Opening march, "America Triumphant;" overture, "Morning, Noon and Night;" patrol, "The Blue and the Gray;" selection, "The Mocking Bird;" intermission; waltz, "Please Come and Play in My Yard;" march, "Don't Cry, Katie Dear;" gems from "The Fortune Teller;" waltz, "Till We Meet Again."

Judge Dayton Accepts.

An acceptance of an invitation to speak at the Grant dinner of the Americus Republican club, has been received from Judge Alston C. Dayton of West Virginia, who recently surrendered a seat in congress to accept a place on the bench. He has been assigned the toast around which the dinner is built—"Grant." Judge Dayton is an eloquent speaker and the club people look upon his acceptance as adding greatly to the attractiveness of the coming celebration.

Dies of His Injuries.

Harry Ford, a negro, aged 22 years and single, of 3800 Liberty avenue, died at 7 a. m. yesterday at the West Penn hospital of peritonitis. On Tuesday, while working at Clark's Thirty-third street mill, he was struck in the abdomen by an iron hook and badly hurt. He was taken to the hospital when peritonitis set in, resulting in his death.

JEALOUS HUSBAND DEALS FATAL BLOW WITH KNIFE

Because he was jealous of attentions paid his wife by other men, Mrs. Mabel Williams, negress, aged 35, was fatally stabbed by her husband, Lee B. Williams, yesterday afternoon at their home in Rankin avenue, Rankin. Williams was a driver for a wholesale grocery firm in Rankin and was discharged Saturday for an attack upon another driver, Ernest Dade. Dade is said to have aroused Williams' jealousy. He was chased through the store by Williams, who had a knife in his hand.

Mrs. Williams was out walking yesterday afternoon with William Scales, a negro officer, and returned home about 4 o'clock. Her husband bought a keg of beer Saturday night and his wife bottled it. It was nearly all gone when Mrs. Williams returned from her walk and Williams accused her of drinking it. She enumerated several guests who had aided in reducing the supply.

Williams became angrier and when his wife turned to ascend the stairs he plunged a knife into her back, inflicting a frightful wound. He fled from the house, but was captured by Scales. The physician who attended Mrs. Williams said there was no hope of her recovery. Justice Jaquay took the deposition of the wounded woman and a charge of felonious cutting was entered against Williams.

PLAY-GROUND ON HILL TOP.

Old Culm Bank Is Being Transformed into Recreation Spot for Children.

The old culm bank, in which fires have broken out and suffocating, poisonous fumes have issued at intervals for many years to the great annoyance and danger of the neighborhood, is to be transformed in the Thirty-eighth ward into a modern playground for children. The spot covers three acres and is part of McKinley park. The regrading and improvement of the grounds is to be started today under the direction of James C. Grant, superintendent of the park.

Other changes include a road to be built by the city through the main hollow of the park and over the sewer which the city constructed last summer at a cost of $30,000. The borough of Knoxville proposes to build a grandstand in the park.

BOUND TO COMPEL FAIR WATER RATES

South Side Consumers' Protective Association Issues Call for Public Meeting.

Under the auspices of the Water Consumers' Protective Association of the South Side, a big public meeting will be held on Wednesday in the Humboldt school at South Twentieth and Sarah streets. The association was organized, its prospectus says, "to prevent imposition on those who are compelled to rely on the services of the Monongahela Water Company for the article furnished them under the name of water." The prospectus bristles with determination to secure the legal rights of the users of water on the South Side.

Two years ago the hilltop wards and boroughs, users of water from the companies that are offshoots of the Monongahela Water Company, held meetings and passed fiery resolutions, but there the matter ended. The protective association professes to mean business. The public meeting is to be for the purpose of enlarging the organization, which intends to compel the water company to live up to its contract with the city of Pittsburgh, by which it agrees to charge the same rates charged by the city to consumers of city water.

The temporary officers are H. L. Reinecke, president; George J. Bleichner, secretary-treasurer, and Anton Maier, John P. Walker, Thomas A. Edgar and William J. Tanney, executive committee. Bleichner's office is at 1820 Carson street, where users of water can contribute to the cause or secure information and see a meter at work. The water company, the prospectus says, discourages the use of meters, on the ground that the rates in Pittsburgh for water going through a meter are too low.

It is realized on the South Side that it would be a costly proceeding to the individual for one man to take the company into court, therefore the association purposes to raise a sum sufficient to proceed under legal direction to a complete decision of the question, "Does the Monongahela Water Company need to live up to its agreement?" All consumers of water are requested to place before the secretary any grievances they may have against the company and to furnish information concerning threats the company may have made.

The prospectus contains on one page a statement made by an officer of the company in a daily paper, in which he says that the schedule of rates is one approved by the board of managers of the company, although the contract with the city stipulates that the company shall charge city rates. He also practically says that if the rates are deemed not equitable the aggrieved persons can go into court.

An Interesting Monday Among the Millinery.

Special 50c Dinner All Week.

Oyster Boulion
or
Cream of Tomato Soup.
Planked Shad. Potatoes Bodaire.
or
Salmi or Tame Duck with Olives.
New Potatoes Browned. Green Peas.
Pie or Ice Cream.
Tea, Coffee, Milk.
Bread or Rolls.

This should prove an interesting Monday to women. Hundreds of them put off buying their Easter Hat until the eleventh hour, some compelled by circumstances, others waiting for the very latest nod of approval from Fashion as to style.

Our buyer has just returned from the metropolis of fashions, and consequently we have scores of exquisite new creations to offer to the late comers. This is a last addition to a collection made up of French millinery, New York millinery and our own creations, of which we have just cause to feel proud.

Trimmed Hats—

An immense variety of Tailored Suit Hats, Toques, Turbans, large flare sailor shapes. Made of Yeddo, pyroxoline and satin braids—individuality, good taste and inexpensiveness were never more harmoniously combined than in this collection of trimmed millinery.

Prices run from $3.50 up to $35.00. This of course applying to trimmed hats. There are many hats, however, ready to wear, which means simply trimmed, which will cost anyone even less than $3.50.

Untrimmed Shapes—

We have devoted far more attention than usual to getting an attractive assortment of untrimmed shapes—consequently there is a most pleasing variety of contours and styles, there is far more variety in braids and straws than Fashion, lavish as she is, usually permits, and as to color—never was it so easy for every woman to have that which is most becoming and yet be entirely within the precincts of correct dress.

Prices run from 65c for a really good and presentable shape to $7.50 for a handsome one.

Flowers and Foliage—

You can select your hat and then secure the flowers at the following reduced rates, thus lowering the cost by quite a considerable amount. Or you have the privilege of securing the benefit of our special prices on either or both of these lines and exercising your own talents as to trimming:

Very large crushed La France Roses, two buds, thorn stem, beautifully branched with foliage—an 85c value for 45c.

Foliage shading from brown to green and all green, 27 leaves to the bunch, 35c values for 15c.

Blue Bells, six different shades—six in the bunch—50c values for 25c.

American Beauty Roses, one large rose with half-blown bud and five branches of foliage, 75c value for 45c.

Crushed Roses, bunches of three—twenty-five different shades—velvet, silk or muslin petals—45c value for 25c.

A Variety of Handsome Woolens for Underprices.

Our collection of fine English Suitings is especially worthy of notice—the medium price lines which vie in both wear and appearance with the most expensive fabrics. Light weights and medium weights in pretty light grays and desirable shades of tan. These are also shown in the newest checks, including pin checks, illuminated checks, broken checks, as well as overplaids and hairline stripes. 75c, $1.00, $1.25 a yard.

Mohairs in plain and fancy weaves certainly have the call. The latest addition to this large and growing family is an imported English mohair suiting which is an exact copy of fine English worsted—beautiful colorings blended with illuminated hairline plaids and checks. Specially priced at $1.25 a yard.

Mohair Sicilians in an attractive range of colors, blue, brown and black included—full 52 inches wide, 50c a yard.

Silk and wool, imported French Eolienne, one of the most correct fabrics of the season, the soft, sheer lustrous sort, firmly woven and very serviceable. A complete range of beautiful colors for both street and evening wear. $1.00 value for 65c.

A Black Broadcloth Special—

Fine imported Chiffon Broadcloth, a beautiful high, rich mirror finish—light in weight, but very firm and serviceable—splendid black. Nothing better for full skirts and long coat suits. $2.25 value for $1.65 a yard.

How We Underprice Silks.

It is nothing out of the ordinary to be offered silks which have failed to meet with favor or are a bit passe in style for less than they would otherwise bring. However, when we announce silks for underprices, they can never be so classed. We are not satisfied to offer good grades, but always offer desirable patterns as well. So it is with those we quote today:

85c and $1.00 Novelty Silks—a choice collection of printed silks and fancy taffetas—a diversity of designs and colorings—today 65c a yard.

$1.00 and $1.25 Fancy Silks—Checks, stripes, broche, faconne, in taffeta and louisine grounds—all the newest and most desirable colorings—today 85c a yard.

You may have your choice of these following four fine weaves in black silks for 68c a yard—regularly they sell for 85c:

Black Chiffon Taffeta, Black Taffeta Mousseline,
Black Louisine, Black Paillete de Soie.

26-inch Black Taffeta Silk—a serviceable silk that sells for 75c a yard—today 58c.

A New Silk for Linings.

Nine out of ten of the Summer dressy cottons will have to be made over silk, not counting the filmy woolens and silks, which always have a silk foundation. Therefore the question of linings is an important one.

We have just received a new lining silk—it is a chiffon finish silk, 19 inches wide, shown in white, black and colors. It cannot be had elsewhere in the Greater City.

At the Lining Counter, 50c a yard.

Colored Cottons from Foreign Climes.

We go to great lengths to get pretty things for Pittsburg women's wear. St. Gall, Switzerland, for example, is noted for making fine Swisses—we go there direct and pick out the finest they have to show. Paris is noted for turning out the handsomest designs in Organdies—nowhere else can such printing and coloring be done—we go to Paris direct for our organdies. And so on. We go to six different countries for dress linens, each of which is noted for some particular weave. Is it any wonder then that our assortment is unrivaled?

Embroidered Batistes, ecru grounds, dainty embroidery in color contrasts, 75c to $2.00 a yard.

Printed Tulles, white and colored grounds, handsomely printed in contrasting colors, 75c a yard. American tulle, 25c and 50c a yard.

Printed Organdies, white and colored grounds, large and small patterns, more than two hundred different styles, 35c to 45c a yard.

Investigation into the causes of the explosion of one of the Iowa's guns at target practice, the other day, leads to the conclusion the resistance of the piece had been exhausted. The Iowa was commissioned nine years ago and its guns are obsolete. They were not originally designed for smokeless powder. This means the older vessels of the navy should be promptly rearmed to maintain them at maximum efficiency, and the lesson should not be lost on the department or on congress.

While the statement made by James Hazen Hyde, through the Equitable investigating committee, shows some heat, it is worthy of consideration. Mr. Hyde denies any intention to admit wrongdoing and explains that his act is not one of "restitution," but a step taken to protect the society in any circumstances. His charge that President James W. Alexander participated in the syndicate underwritings is denied by the latter. The facts will be ascertained by the investigating committee, of course, and meantime it will be well for the public to recognize that Mr. Hyde is the only member of the syndicate who has put up anything as a guarantee of his good faith.

It is probable Hungary will take advantage of the law approved by the king of Austria in 1899, which allows her to establish independent commercial relations with other nations. It is believed this will relieve somewhat the relations with Austria, which have become strained, especially since the recent election result, which demanded nationalization. In return for Hungary's commercial freedom she is said to be willing to waive the point of the use of the Hungarian language in the army, on which she has insisted. It is possible such a compromise will hasten the possibility of action by a cabinet, over which the emperor has had so much trouble since the election.

Chicago is revelling in anticipation of the expenditure each year of the income from $1,000,000 for public statues to adorn the city. This sum was left by the will of B. F. Ferguson, which was filed Saturday and it is the largest amount left to any city in the world for the purpose. In the expenditure of the interest, which will amount to about $40,000, the directors of the art institute are to have the advice of all interested in municipal art, so a general plan may be agreed upon for the adornment of the entire city. The founder's purpose was to have statues commemorating events rather than those impersonating individuals, so it is not likely the bequest will lead to the erection of the monstrosities that disfigure New York and other cities.

Vice President Fairbanks will have the opportunity to welcome the delegates to an important convention when the International Railway congress meets in Washington next month. This congress meets every five years, and in 1900 President McKinley invited the delegates to come to this country when they assembled the next time. While the papers to be read are of little popular interest, the gathering of nearly 1,000 men from 44 different countries is a matter of some concern. It is said all the lines of importance in this country will be inspected by the delegates, who are seeking an interchange of ideas concerning their construction and management. Government ownership or government regulation will, no doubt, receive some attention at the meeting. Greatest interest will center in the exhibition of new machinery and appliances, assembled for the occasion, in which Pittsburgh will be well represented.

Despite precautions against infection the "epidemic" of spinal meningitis continues in New York, causing as many as 16 deaths in a day. This malady is imperfectly understood by the medical profession and the doctors are not fully agreed upon its proper treatment. It is terrifying to the laity on account of the swiftness with which it runs its course and its violent symptoms. Yet it is just as well for the public to keep cool. Not one in 10 of the persons exposed will contract the disease and if the treatment is not as well understood as it might be, the preventive measure of caring for the general health is probably more effective.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago has reason to expect his discovery that leaders in the teamsters strike have been employing extortion will be a weapon in the settlement of the difficulty. He is said to have evidence that money was demanded of the employers, and this has so disgusted the honest workingmen they are said to have lost heart in the struggle. There need be no surprise that Chicago, which has one of the most complete systems of organized labor, should find "black sheep" among the organizers. Such dishonest men exist everywhere, and the irresponsibility of the labor leader who has not been subjected to sobering experience is peculiarly susceptible to improper influences.

Good Suggestions.

In connection with the dedication of the magnificent new First Presbyterian church yesterday, the Rev. Dr. Maitland B. Alexander advanced two recommendations that should be carefully considered. One was to provide a home in the country for girls—a genuine country home where they might get a taste of life as it is lived close to nature. The other was for the employment of a man to give his entire time to the betterment of boys, by being a friend, a guide and philosopher—a man with a youthful heart.

There are so many large fields of usefulness in which the great churches may engage their resources that it is sometimes difficult to choose which is best. The two mentioned by Dr. Alexander, however, commend themselves. Possibly there are no other directions in which more good might be accomplished with as little effort. "Boys will be boys," and in the course of time they will be men, and the kind of men they become will depend in large measure upon the influences surrounding them. As for the girls, what could do more to keep their hearts fresh and right than just such a home as Dr. Alexander proposes?

The Washington Station.

A ceremony corresponding to a corner stone laying was held in Washington Saturday, when the principal block for the corner of the new union station was laid in the presence of railroad officials, engineers and the constructing architects. This new station will be the culmination of long effort to secure adequate accommodations for railroads entering the national capital. The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has entered near the site of the new building, while the Pennsylvania and southern roads go from a location near the mall that runs between the capital and the White House. It was at first proposed to build the new union station on the mall, but there was so much opposition to encroaching on that space that another site was found.

The union station was made possible largely by the enterprise and public spirit of President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania, who took a personal interest in the matter. It will cost about $14,000,000 to make the changes needed in the tracks and erect the building, which is to be one of the finest in the world. The time for its completion is set at July, 1906, but the work will probably require more time. When it is completed it will admirably serve the railroad needs of the great center and beside it will harmonize with the plans for the civic adornment of the city, which promises to be one of the most attractive in the world. As the gateway to the seat of government it will be imposing, while every opportunity has been taken to facilitate access from the streets to trains.

Exports of Oil.

American exports of petroleum, which fell to the lowest of recent years, were in March the largest in history, 106,000,000 gallons. The price, however, was extremely low, this large amount being valued at little more than $7,000,000. A year ago the value was much higher and the quantity materially less. It is notable, too, the increase in exports for March was principally from eastern ports, whereas for some time previously there was larger relative increase in the movement from Galveston.

It is not possible to deduce from the statistics of one month any broad principles to a certainty, but it may be inferred there is a close connection between the larger exports and the lower prices. The fact was published by The Gazette a month ago that heavy inroads had been made in foreign markets by foreign oils and by the products of Texas refineries. Apparently the low prices have been met by shippers from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore and some share of the market recovered.

There is no evidence that Texas refiners have lost any ground in the shuffle, nor it is to be expected they will. Much of their crude oil has been bought as low as 15 cents a barrel and if it yields 10 per cent of good illuminant they ought to be able to sell as cheaply as any one. Their nearness to the coast is an advantage not to be overlooked in the equation.

Plaint of a Queen.

France as a republic may be charged with being less grateful, or at least less liberal than the United States. There are the cases of the queen of Madagascar and the former queen of the Hawaiian islands. The latter was handsomely provided for from the start. The latter, on a miserable pittance of 30,000 francs a year, is begging publicly for enough money to educate her daughter and support an aged aunt.

A heart of stone might be melted by the plaint of the dusky queen, exiled from her loved Madagascar in dissolute France. "I cannot live as cheaply here as in Madagascar," she writes, and by way of proof offers a list of Easter bonnets and gowns for daughter and herself that are unattainable on her slender income. She declares her daughter's school expenses are in arrears for one year and she has been compelled to decline all invitations because unable to attire herself as befits her station.

It is up to France to do something. Its involuntary guest should be given a proper allowance for French costuming, or should be allowed to return to Madagascar, where royal finery does not cost so much. With a string of beads and an apron the queen might be happy and respected in her native land, while in France a Worth gown is the sign of nobility. It was not her will to leave her island home for the glamors of French society. It is not certain she would now be happy in her former surroundings, or that France would be happy to have her there, but it does seem proper that if she is to remain a queen in France she ought to have more than $1,400 a year for maintenance of the royal establishment.

Railroad Rate Hearings.

According to the program of the senate committee, it will begin hearing arguments on railroad rate legislation today. Notice has been given the railroad presidents to come forward and present their views and later the other side will be given a hearing also. Advocates of the legislation were heard at some length by the house committee during the winter, which is the reason the railroads are now given the first opportunity to speak.

These hearings will be closely followed by the American public and the arguments weighed, though sentiment long ago formed favorable to regulation. It is not probable any arguments can be advanced that will reverse this judgment. It is possible, however, a case may be made for the railroads that will gain popular sanction for a modification of the pending legislation. If the railroad managers address themselves to that task they are more likely to succeed than if they adhere to denial of the right of the government to fix reasonable rates under certain circumstances.

In certain quarters it has been intimated the railroads will rest their case on the contention that shippers should have the right to seek redress of grievances through regular court channels only, and that no special tribunal should be created to take the burden of proof and correction upon itself. There was, in fact, a suggestion of this attitude in the Pittsburgh Traffic club address of President Spencer of the Southern. If this is to be the policy of the carriers they will occupy a weak position. It amounts to a defense upon a technicality. No injustice is involved in the creation of a commission to inquire into and to adjust rates. The interstate commerce commission has been empowered to do everything except to adjust rates for 18 years and the grant of the limited additional power proposed is no infraction of the constitutional rights of the corporations.

It is the duty of a district attorney to inquire, seek evidence and prosecute individuals suspected of wrongdoing. Those are proper functions for the enforcement of law and the obtaining of justice. It is just as proper to create an expert commission to deal with common carriers. There is no more reason for anticipating injustice at the hands of the interstate commission than at those of a district attorney or an attorney general. It is necessary to have such an agency in dealing with the railroads because the average shipper can afford neither the time nor the money to investigate the evidence in his case. It is not a square deal to make a man suffer because he has not strength to defend himself against injustice.

Divided Forces.

With the announcement that another squadron will soon pass the Suez canal, the Russian admiralty is gradually disclosing its plan of naval operations. It is reported from St. Petersburg that Admiral Rojestvensky is not expected to demolish the Japanese navy, but by sacrificing his squadron may so disable the enemy that he will have no effective force remaining. Apparently it is the Russian expectation that the third and fourth Pacific squadrons may be given a free hand with Japanese commerce and the transport service.

If such is the Russian plan it is very likely it will fail. Admiral Togo is a cautious man. In his operations against the first Pacific squadron he showed no disposition to take any unnecessary risk. He is now keeping quiet and out of Rojestvensky's way, not because he fears the latter, but because he is biding his time to secure an advantage. If Rojestvensky desires immediate battle, he will probably be compelled to attack the Japanese at their Formosan base, and there is little doubt they have there the protection of land batteries.

Even if Admiral Togo's present squadron should be practically destroyed while destroying that of Rojestvensky it does not follow the Russians would have everything their own way. Japan has a large number of torpedo boat destroyers ready and almost ready to go to sea. With three or four battleships and cruisers remaining to assist them this "mosquito" fleet would keep the Russians guessing. In short, the Russian plan indicated at St. Petersburg is a dividing of Russian strength, affording the Japanese opportunity to defeat the squadrons in detail. It is the opposite of usual good military policy.

Cruelty in Australia.

In the light of the report of Dr. Roth, who was sent to investigate certain charges against the police administration in Australia, there may be less activity in England in the matter of pressing the indictment against the Kongo Free State. As reported by Lady Henry Somerset, Dr. Roth's findings are highly discreditable to the Australians, their treatment of the blacks being hardly better than the cruelties alleged against King Leopold's agents in the Kongo region.

Probably it is not to be wondered at that a charge of inhumanity has again lodged at the British door. It is not the first. It may not be the last. A similar charge rests against Germany in respect to the causes of the outbreak of the Hereros in southwest Africa. Even the United States has had a probing of the "water cure" in the Philippines. France is not exempt from accusations of brutality in the management of colored natives in its colonial possessions.

It may readily be inferred the management of the "inferior" races by any other that rules over them is a difficult matter. Human nature, in the mass, has not reached a plane where the offenses of inferiors are regarded with toleration. Quite prevalent is the belief that terrorism is the only influence that can restrain the ignorant. Ample illustration of this spirit is afforded in the relations between whites and blacks in our southern states. No amount of argument serves to convince the south that mob vengeance is not the most effective corrective of the predatory disposition of the black and we doubt not the Australian is ready with the same defense against Dr. Roth.

When in spring the young man's fancy
Turns to love and lighter clo'es,
Comes the weather of the Klondike,
Snow and wind that fiercely blows.

Every legislature is censured by the Dispatch. It is that sort of criticism that renders legislators indifferent to the "voice of the people." And the Dispatch yells loudly enough when the newspaper privilege of lying is assailed.

Commissioner Garfield is going about his business in the oil fields as calmly as if the late Kansas legislature had not made an exhibition of itself in connection with the beef "trust" report.

Rojestvensky's laconic dispatch to the admiralty that news may be expected after the fight, is loquacious by comparison with Togo's dense silence while the battle is impending.

Considering all this country has suffered since last November it is no surprise to hear from the Klondike that it had no severe weather during the winter.

The Dispatch is more deeply disappointed over the failure of its prediction of a "carnival of corruption" at Harrisburg than we had supposed.

May day will be fittingly celebrated by the start of the Merchants and Manufacturers' trade excursion into the northwest.

Kansas City is preparing to mark the Santa Fe trail with something more substantial than bu'sted hopes.

St. Louis will have more energy for six days of business after enjoying a Pittsburgh Sunday.

We violate no confidence in stating that none of the "sissified asses" has joined the "Osler clubs."

Admiral Rojestvensky appears to have a plan of campaign, but it may not agree with Togo's.

Whatever happens to the early buds, it's great weather for the natural gas plant.

Here is where the senate committee opens the door to the railroad presidents.

Like the cat of song and story, the steam heat came back.

Mr. Hyde declares emphatically he has nothing to hide.

Now the new navy must have new guns.

The Bengal Student.

Mr. B. Heaton, principal of the English Civil Engineering college at Calcutta, is making a tour of the United States to study the educational methods in vogue in American schools. "Our college," said he, "has about 400 students, but this is a small number when one remembers that the province of Bengal has more than 40,000,000 people. The young men whom we teach are bright mentally and pass their examinations beautifully, but when it comes to applying their knowledge they do not seem to make much of their opportunities. The fact is that the Bengali are not at all energetic or enterprising; they love to read and to speculate, but they are very poor when it comes to action. At the same time they are in many ways a lovable people, and we cannot criticise them very severely.—Washington Post.

Criminal Aristocracy.

The James and Younger families belong in the criminal aristocracy of the frontier, and show no signs of dying out. But they have changed their habits, and in the new generation have gone into law and politics. One of Jesse James' sons has hung out his attorney's shingle somewhere in Kentucky, and one of the Youngers is United States marshal in the prairie dog district of Lee's Summit, Mo. Both seem rather proud of their family records, and, as communities in general have the kind of lawyers and officials which they deserve, everybody ought to be satisfied.—New York Tribune.

A Modified Attitude.

A careful analysis of the attitude of the northern press 10 years ago on the negro question in the south compared with that of the present day would reveal a striking contrast. The blind criticism and the unqualified denunciation of that era have been superseded by a moderation, a friendliness and a quality which, with the passing days, takes on a greater degree of intelligent comprehension.—Atlanta Constitution.

Goat Among President's Horses.

There is a goat in the presidential stables that browses about among the thoroughbreds in a homelike way. He has free entry to every part of the stable. He knows the horses and they know him. He is not there as a playfellow and beast of burden for the Roosevelt children, although the children take a deep interest in him. He is there to help train the horses in true western style.—Washington Star.

"Free" Franchises Expensive.

Mayor Dunne of Chicago says the street railways of that city have $27,000,000 worth of visible property, but $117,000,000 worth of securities. The figures suggest that it was expensive to give away the franchises.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Choice in Surgery.

News comes from Chicago that the prices of beef are now to be probed in the grand jury investigation. Consumers would rather seem them cut.—Boston Globe.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By Frank A. Parker.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The new systems of rapid transit in Greater New York are carrying fortunes to the farmers of the outlying boroughs. The people of Pittsburgh may be surprised to learn that there are still farms to be found within the confines of the city, but it is a fact. Only a few days ago one farm of 225 acres on the edge of Brooklyn and well within the city limits, was sold for $500,000, and the purchasers expect to make a good sized fortune by cutting it up into building lots. This farm is located in that section of the city known as Brownsville, a part of which is the new ghetto, having been built up by a colony of East Side Jews who tired of tenement conditions. Brownsville was two years ago almost a howling wilderness when the Jews began buying land there, but today it is one of the most thickly populated outlying sections of Greater New York.

Nor is Brownsville the only place where the residents of the Lower East Side have been finding an outlet from the crowded tenements. When the subway opened into the Bronx and real estate speculators started a boom that sent prices of vacant land skyward, it was discovered that hundreds of East Side men who had saved a little money were ahead of them and had picked up many of the choicest locations. Out there the land has proven too valuable for single family houses and large rows of flats have gone up, many of them built by companies formed among families who had lived in the tenements for years. In the Bronx they have more room and more comfort at less expense, and the only drawback is the daily car fare to business in the downtown districts.

Where Mr. Phipps Will Build.

It is the intention of the commission which has in hand the building of model tenements with the money furnished by Mr. Henry Phipps to expend a good portion of it in the Bronx and possibly lower Brooklyn. The great value of the land in the Lower East Side would necessitate making the rent higher than is wished, in order to produce the 4 per cent which Mr. Phipps thinks the model tenements should bring in. Notwithstanding the boom prices, land is still to be had in the Bronx and in Brooklyn that is fairly well located, which will answer the purpose of the commission and at the same time be within reasonable bounds as to price. Then it has been discovered that the worthy poor are really anxious to get away from the old surroundings of the present tenement house district.

Great Boon to Small Property Holder.

The opening of new lines of transportation has proven the greatest boon to the class of people who desire to own their own homes and who can not pay the big prices for city real estate or the taxes after they have made the purchase. The result is that a new subway or new railroad line needs only to reach the paper stage and there are scores of men out looking for places to build new homes. Twenty young men, each with a few thousands of dollars at his command, last week closed a deal for a tract of eleven acres at Bayside, borough of Queens, paying the holder $20,000. They have formed a syndicate and each promises to build a house that shall cost not less than $3,500. There are other restrictions in the way of the number of lots for each house and that sort of thing which will make the new tract an ideal series of suburban homes. There is a common treasury fund from which improvements will be made, and a regular association for the good of all.

Moving Into the Woods.

This tract of land is now covered with trees and is ideally located. It is only a few minutes' walk from the bay, is high and dry, and has every possible advantage for men with families. But there are other tracts in the immediate neighborhood, and the sale of this one has added largely to the value of the remaining acreage. In fact, the holders at once put a higher price on their land, figuring that the building of homes by the little syndicate will attract others to the neighborhood, which is undoubtedly true. And since the syndicate closed its books, all the land having been parceled out, there were at least a dozen applicants from other men of small means who wanted in on the ground floor. The idea will, therefore, very likely be copied by others who have seen how well the scheme worked when it was gone at in the right way by a man whose heart was in it.

Afraid of Being Crowded.

But these farmers of Greater New York are not all disposing of their land at present prices. They are holding off for something better. The fact that the Rapid Transit commission is planning to spend $250,000,000 on new subway routes gives them hope that one of them will tap their land and send its value skyrocketing. Those who find it necessary to dispose of part of their ground because of the heavy taxes are still reserving a good portion for themselves. One farmer at Bayside sold off a large tract to be cut up into city lots, but reserved for himself six city blocks for breathing space. "I never did like being crowded," he explained. He probably also wants room for a little garden and a place for his chickens. A farmer has the same notions of comfort, whether his land lies in the center of a great city or in the wilds of the woods, and being crowded into little space is not one of them.

No Cut in the Rent Rates.

All this does not have the slightest effect on the rents asked for little two by four flats in the central portion of the city. It still takes a lot of nerve and money to try to live within striking distance of those amusements one is supposed to enjoy in city life. There are very few apartments that go begging, at that. Of course, there are plenty to be had in summer, many of them furnished at less rent than is paid for them by the lessees unfurnished. But it requires the patience of Job to look around long enough to secure one of these bargains. And patience is one thing that the average hurrying city-bred American is always short on.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By Erasmus Wilson.

She is pretty to walk with,
And witty to talk with,
And pleasant, too, to think on.
—Sir John Suckling.

But Sir John lived and wrote and died a long time ago—nearly 300 years. And yet he is often quoted because of the fitness of his sayings to the present times.

He does not say that women are only fit to walk with, to talk with, and to think on, but that they are peculiarly fit for these particular uses.

In his time there were no new women, and the bachelor girl had not been invented. Had he known these he might have written differently. Indeed, his opinions of these would make good reading, for he was an opinionated fellow, and had such a good opinion of his own opinions that he handed them out in good, virile terms.

A woman modeled after the new woman of today would have had a tough time of it among the English gentry of Suckling's time.

* * *

But when you come to think it over, doesn't it strike you that the girl of the period is, or would be, just such a creature as our old poet friend had in mind when he wrote the lines quoted above?

She loves to walk and to talk, and to be thought of, which is all right as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough. Walking and talking won't keep the pot boiling, nor will thinking keep one from growing thin.

There is a time to walk, a time to talk, and a time to think, but the grand time of life is when we do things that count for the future as well as for the present.

Just here is where the bachelor girl proposes to break in and surprise the world with her wonderful work. And not liking her field of operations, her natural sphere, so to speak, she hops over the fence and tackles man's work.

It would be all right to meet him half way and join him as a helpmate, and go along with him through life according to the original plan, but that would be the old woman way, and not the way of the new woman.

* * *

For some reason or other the new woman does not like to be investigated, nor to have her ways criticised; not that she regards herself as a perfect creature, or entirely above criticism, but that she thinks it ungallant of men to notice her faults or to comment on them.

But men will talk. They inherit this trait from their mothers, or acquire it by association with women.

The bachelor girl must learn to bear criticism, and to submit to being called down, for she is human, therefore she is liable to err. And the farther she strays from the path marked out by nature for woman to travel the sharper the criticism and the more peremptory the calls.

That many of the faults charged up to the new woman, or the bachelor girl, are due to her education and training may readily be conceded. Some imagine that it is nothing more nor less than perversity, or a desire to be something for which she was not intended. Instead of being instructed along lines calculated to fit her for the peculiar part she was intended to fill in the economy of nature, she is shunted off onto entirely different lines. And when she fails she weeps and wails and blames it on the men.

Mr. Quiet Observer:—The "Bachelor Girl" certainly makes a brave effort to defend her position, but is she quite consistent? Will her own statements bear out all that she claims?

We men do spend hard-earned money to send our girls to college, but not for the purpose of making them too smart for the duties of home. We educate them in order to fit them for any position in life in which they may find themselves.

If they can be spared from the home to earn something for themselves it is a welcome addition to the family income. But parents have the first right to their children if they need them.

I agree with the "Bachelor Girl" that woman has just as much right to materially aid her parents in return for their kindnesses to her as has man. The trouble is that too many girls refuse to do this very thing from a false notion that they can do something great, and that they would simply waste their talents by applying them to the duties of home.

Housework ought not to be nearly so maddening to a woman as the lack of it is to a man. When a man goes home hungry, tired and feeling unable to pay the worthless servant who spoils his meals and makes his home miserable, he is in no mood to appreciate the kind of education that sends his cultured wife to her club and his own college-bred bachelor girl to her own apartments. He could even eat a chunk of one of his mother's pies, out of date though it be.

The "Bachelor Girl" thinks there is no room for advancement in washing pots and pans, etc. I do not know much about this myself, but at our house it is always done as quickly as is consistent with thoroughness in order to afford some leisure for reading, music and conversation.

It does not make anybody miserable, either. It is only when sickness or absence makes poor help necessary that things go crooked and everybody is out of sorts.

The "Bachelor Girl" envies her married sister, but is unwilling to burden any of her many suitors with herself.

If this is the effect of college education give me the good old days of "subscription schools," the times when pies were pies, not pastry, and girls were glad to be able to make them as good as their mothers did; and when a girl who felt she would be a burden to a man would have been ashamed to say so publicly.

Demand for Free Seeds.

"Each congressman is entitled to 13,000 packages of seeds," said Congressman Thomas S. Butler, "but I have demands on me for 40,000, I believe. The people write to me from all sections of the district for seeds, specifying in many instances what they want. Here is a number of long lists from Swarthmore—for seeds I haven't got. We only get certain kinds of flower and vegetable seeds, and I can't furnish everything asked for."

Mr. Butler said that besides sending many hundreds of packages of his own, he has "borrowed" seeds from congressmen whose constituents do not come for flower and garden seeds, and these he is using. But for all that, he has had to answer many letters, stating he could not supply seeds asked for. "I have written as many as three thousand letters, I believe, relating to seeds alone," he said.—Delaware County American.

AROUND THE STATE.

Red-Finned Suckers.

There were thousands of red-finned suckers in the river near the mouth of Oil creek, and in the latter stream from the mouth to above the Center street bridge on Thursday and a large number were snatched out of their native element by boys and young men, who used loops of copper wire fastened to cane poles as their fishing paraphernalia. Jacob Mast secured a string of ten of the fish, the aggregate weight of which was 28 pounds, and one individual weighed fully five pounds. One that weighed five pounds was caught in the same way from the Center street bridge. A 10-year-old boy had slipped the noose around the neck of the fish, but was unable to land it, and that office was performed for him by Ray Miller, a young man attending the South Side business college.—Oil City Derrick.

Strange Course of Lightning.

During the heavy electric and hailstorm which prevailed to an alarming extent in section of West Finley township, Monday afternoon and evening, Birney Alexander, a farmer residing near the Harmony school house was struck by lightning. The current passed through the roof and down through ten feet of hay in a mow, killing three sheep at the foot of a post on the ground level. There were about 150 sheep and a number of young cattle in this basement of the building, which were uninjured. Strange to state the hay was not fired by the electric current.—Washington Reporter.

Soloonkeepers' Blacklist.

The Paiton council has taken a new and effective plan to discourage drunkenness in that place. The council recently issued an order to the hotel keepers and wholesale liquor dealers, warning them not to sell or give liquor to the "soaks," or allow them to loaf about their places of business. The order is accompanied by a list of the people whom the borough dads believe to have already had their share. This list is headed by the names of a man and wife, who have been conspicuous among the class in need of reformation.—Cambria Tribune.

Opportunity for a Romancer.

An incipient romance, which had its birth in the high waters of Oil creek during the recent flood, is looking rather promising. At the time that the water was at its highest point a number of young women wrote their names on a slip of paper, sealed it in a bottle and cast the flask on the bosom of the raging stream. On Monday one of the bevy of young women received a note from a man or boy at Oakmont, stating that he had found the bottle and asked the privilege of corresponding with her.—Oil City Derrick.

Destroys Many Secrets.

At Eventide.

Where, winding down the shining plain,
And round each shaded crest,
The high road goes the sunset way,
Upon the endless quest.

Full many a traveler I have seen
(And one was passing fair)
Go down the valley from the door
And swiftly vanish there.
Some I have sped upon their path
And lightened some of care.

One day I, too, shall take my staff
And down the valley go,
For one who went was passing fair,
And waits for me, I know,
And I shall find her—O my soul!

FIRST CHURCH IS DEDICATED

Handsome New Presbyterian House of Worship Consecrated Yesterday.

INSTITUTIONAL WORK URGED

Before a large, fashionable and representative congregation, the handsome new First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, was formally dedicated yesterday morning with a service that was impressive by its simplicity.

Not only did the fact of its being Palm Sunday add to the occasion, but the fact that the day marked the one hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the first call made to the Redstone presbytery for a pastor to preach Presbyterianism to Pittsburgh, which led to the establishment of the First church, lent a special impressiveness.

While much had been written and said about the beauty of the structure which has been erected at a cost of over $350,000, the interior was a surprising revelation to the communicants who gathered under its roof for the first service yesterday. The architectural style is Gothic, both within and without—the interior greatly resembling that of the Third church on Fifth avenue.

One of the striking features, especially from within, is the 14 memorial windows, which as a whole, are undoubtedly the finest in this section of the country. They have been presented by members of the congregation in memory of ancestors, and are the production of Tiffany of New York and European artists. Each is valued at from $4,000 to $5,000.

Artistic Pulpit Was Donated.

The pulpit, which is of marble and granite, is highly artistic and was donated by J. Painter, Jr. The organ in use yesterday was one which has recently been taken out of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church to make room for a new instrument. A $25,000 organ which had been completed for the First church was destroyed by fire just before shipment several months ago, and another instrument of equal value is now under course of construction.

The chapel of the new church, in itself artistic and beautiful, can be connected with the main auditorium by opening two immense oak doors behind the pulpit.

The musical program for the dedicatory service yesterday morning included such composers as Handel, Buck, Wagner and Beethoven, while a special offertory anthem, composed especially for the occasion by Ad. M. Foerster, and entitled, "Christ Is Our Cornerstone," was rendered. During the rendition of this an offering was taken for the purpose of improving the Central chapel at Forbes and Seneca street and for which $20,000 was expected. Contributions were liberal, but the exact amount will not be made known for several days.

Appeals to the Congregation.

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, delivered the dedicatory sermon, taking for his text I Kings, viii:56, 57 and 58. He reviewed the history of the congregation in brief, and dwelt upon its rich heritage. He pleaded for the simple expounding of gospel truths from the pulpit, and called the attention of the congregation to the proper employment of its resources in missionary effort along institutional lines, reviewing the work along these lines in which the church has already engaged. He especially asked that a man be employed to encourage the boys; that a woman be engaged to enter in club work and that a summer home be established for working girls, where they might find recreation under proper surroundings at a cost within their reach. Reviewing these subjects, he said in part:

Ancient history in many quarters is losing its power. Men are living more in the present and in the future than they do in the past. But history, and particularly history like that which has been made by this church, is of peculiar power. Like the old family swords made dear by what they represent in patriotism and sacrifice, and like the missionary history of some families, whose records are illuminated with martyrs' blood, the history of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh is her dear possession. Whatever be her membership, however long the years may roll, whatever changes may occur in her policy or in her administration, nothing can dim her sacred heritage of the past, or cause the names of her founders, and the principles for which they stood, to be forgotten.

Inspired by Its Heritage.

There is a great difference between an old and a new church.

A new church, untrammeled by historic associations, or precedents, may plan her course, order her life, and do her work without restraint or inspiration other than that furnished by herself. She enjoys an independence and freedom that simplifies her plans and leaves her unhampered by old methods and traditions.

The old church, amid the memories that gather about her, listening to the voices and remembering the deeds of the past, is controlled, animated and inspired by that heritage and that responsibility which comes from this legacy and power bequeathed to her by her founders.

It would be idle for me to attempt to give even a summary of the history of this church. From the day when, on this very Sunday, 121 years ago, the call was made to the presbytery of Redstone for preaching services in Pittsburgh, until now, this church has progressed along is original lines, and under its racial and religious foundation, with a steady and unimpaired movement.

There are three relations which this church has borne to the community, which I believe to be the sources of its power. The first of these has been its doctrinal position.

Another of the great sources of strength of this church has been the position which it has assigned to the preaching of the gospel. The rigorous simplicity of its service, without adornment and without ritual.

The First Presbyterian church also bears a peculiar relation to the city of Pittsburgh. The pioneer church in any community is bound in no small degree to influence that community. How far the seed sown here has contributed to the spiritual and intellectual life of this community no one can tell, but the weight of his opinion, the cumulative power of its membership is felt in ever growing measure in this city. For the unity of the church has made it strong and the weight of its opinion is a potent factor in all that Pittsburgh does.

Changes Affect the Church.

As the years have gone by changes have altered the church's opportunities; time has affected the church's resources—one thing, however, remains unchanged, and that is the peculiar devotion and loyalty of its members.

During the past 10 or 15 years a growing condition and a growing problem has confronted this church to be met and solved. Its condition was this:

From being a church situated in the center of the resident portion of the city, it became a church situated in the business portion of the city. Its environment instead of being the abodes of wealth and social influence has become the abodes of the poor and in many instances of the vicious. The city itself presented a condition of church life characterized by very little real city evangelization. Pittsburgh has been a city where the conditions demanded it enormously, but whose churches seemed painfully unaware of its needs. They demanded preaching, a Sabbath school, a prayer meeting, regular missionary work for its women, and as long as it cared for its own and contributed to the boards of the church it felt that it had done its complete duty. Fifteen years ago there were no churches who maintained their own missions in the needy parts of the city.

The social problem had to be considered directly in this connection. Could the church perform the difficult task of assimilating all classes and grades of society? What would the effect of this be on the Sabbath school, on the women's societies and the other work of the church? Would the rich and the poor, the socially prominent and the socially obscure mix? Then, too, the intense conservatism of the church stood in its way.

Pushed Into New Activities.

During the ministry of Dr. Breed these questions became more acute, and the beginnings of that movement originated, which have culminated in that policy under which this church is now dedicated. It seemed the only thing by which the life of this church could be preserved. To develop its resources it was necessary to branch out into larger activities for a greater variety of people, and by a more specific and personal method.

I do not think I need to say that these departments have grown through the patient efforts of the men and particularly of the women of this church, from the very beginning. All that was planned was undertaken with a hearty zeal and enthusiastic co-operation. If we recapitulate the work of the church and chapel we shall find it to consist at present as follows:

Sunday Services—	Church	Chapel.
Morning attendance	1,200	100
Evening attendance	1,800	200
Sunday school	400	300
Young People's association	100	50
Week-day Meetings—
Sewing school	200	200
Mothers' meeting	100	125
Boys' brigade	150	100
Boys' club	150	...
Young women's club	75	...
Girls' club	140	75
Industrial class	100	...
Total per week	4,415	1,150

It will thus be seen that the church touches nearly 6,000 people every week, and will, I trust, in the future reach 10,000.

In 1899 the membership of the church proper was 556, and the membership of the chapel 132, making a total of 688, and the total benevolences of the church for the year about $26,000. In 1905 the membership of the church was 807 and of the chapel 216, making a total of 1,032, and the gifts for benevolence during this past year were about $46,000.

Confidence in the Future.

We turn with confidence and expectancy toward the future. We most earnestly want to do an extension work which shall far surpass anything that we have already done. The running expenses of this church, that is, the actual expenditures of the services here, must be met by the congregation by their own gifts, and in this way the church may be free to enlarge the scope and augment the efficiency of its activities. There are in the city thousands of people, especially young men and young women, who have absolutely no relation whatever to the church. It is to be the aim of this church to get these under its influence and help. It is most earnestly desired that the progress shall not be retarded. There must be the heartiest and most enthusiastic co-operation by all classes.

The first is part when a business involving the expenditure of $80,000 a year can be carried on with six employes. Two hundred employes care for the sick in an average hospital when there are not more than 2,100 patients cared for in a week. This church is supposed to care for the souls of nearly 7,000 a week with six paid workers.

You demand of its ministry and workers that the building shall be kept open day and evening, that it shall provide social and industrial branches, that it shall maintain a Bible class, conduct clubs, hold gospel meetings, have three preaching services in one week. Hold a Sunday school, maintain missionary work, nurse the sick, provide for the poor, attend the pastoral work of 1,500 people. Carry on a children's convalescent hospital. It is a splendid list of activities, and I am proud to think of their far-reaching influences. But the end is not yet.

Needs of the Church.

We need a trained woman worker who can organize and maintain clubs among the girls and young women, hundreds of whom need their help. We need a man who can do boys' work and be among the boys for seven days out of seven. We need a corps of conscientious and regular workers for all our departments, who will come to work there, not in the spirit of condescension or patronage, but to be helpful.

We need large hearted men and women who can promise to take some one thing—club, a piety, anything in which they are interested—and be its patron, watching over it, providing paid workers for it, getting themselves to know the charm and power of this kind of work. Its carrying out lies with you, your benevolences and your prayers and your interest.

The salary for a boys' worker.....$1,500
The salary for a trained club worker.. 1,000
The maintenance of one or more clubs at, a year..... 250

The provision of a farm for a vacation home for girls.

This farm, or country place where, for a fair sum, proportionate to their salary, young women who depend on their own livelihood, could spend two weeks in summer under the best auspices and oversight, is a greatly needed contribution to our parish resources. It is the only way that some of the most hidden but most insidious evils of this city can be dealt with.

Prosperous Present; Hopeful Future.

Through the days of the long past God has been good, very good to this church. Goodness and mercy have followed her and her members. The last ten years instead of being trying years have been years of great success. Where we might have expected disintegration there has been construction, where we looked for loss there has been gain. One of the greatest characteristics of this church is its persistency; if our luxury does not spoil us, if our plenty does not beget stinginess and greed, if our prosperity does not beget indolence, we may hope for a great future.

If it pleases God to send us possibilities and opportunities they must be met with gratitude, and humility and consecration. The task which we have set ourselves, while not an easy one, is an impossible one, except as God is pleased to help us. So we enter upon our wark in this new church with great encouragement, fearing only our own sins, and lest there be something here which will drive away the Holy Ghost, the source of all power.

As we began we close. "We dedicate this church and with it ourselves anew and afresh, to Almighty God; to Him worship and service, to the cause of His kingdom, to the salvation of the men and women of this great city, through the cr ss of Christ."

We dedicate it to the care of little children and the comfort and consolation of the aged. We dedicate it as a refuge for all the storm-tossed, a shelter for the shelterless—as a great rock for rest for the weary, and as a stream for the refreshment of the faintly. And this we do for Christ's sake. "Who came not to be ministered unto but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many." Among whom we pray we may all at last be found.

Used Individual Communion Cups.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon a communion service was held, during which the individual communion service was employed for the first time by the congregation. The administration of the communion service was very impressive and was preceded by the installation of John A. Bell, Samuel A. Rankin, W. F. Daizell and Franklin D. Thompson as ruling elders of the congregation. The administration of the bread was by the Rev. Dr. Sylvester F. Scovel, while the administration of the wine was by Dr. Alexander, who officiated in place of the Rev. Dr. David R. Breed, who was absent.

After the service, the pastor formally received 60 members into the church by profession and by letter.

Beginning at 7:45 o'clock in the evening, the usual Sunday evening service was held, during which a special musical program was carried out. This evening a reception will be held in the church and chapel to members of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny presbyterics, when short addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Drs. James D. Moffat, H. D. Lindsay and W. L. McEwan. Wednesday evening a reunion will be held in the church of the teachers, scholars and alumni of the Sabbath school.

REV. M. S. KEMP, A. M. THE REV. J. E. BITTLE.
New and retiring pastors of Alpha Lutheran Church, Turtle Creek.

YOUNG PASTOR TAKES CHARGE

Rev. Matthew Stanley Kemp in the Pulpit of a Turtle Creek Church.

RETIRING DIVINE'S NEW WORK

The pulpit of the Alpha English Lutheran church of Turtle Creek, at Tenth street and Airbrake avenue, was filled yesterday by the pastor-elect, the Rev. Matthew Stanley Kemp, A. M., who, although on the sunnyside of 30, has had quite a record as a tutor and for the past nine years as a minister. He is something of a poet, although he has yet been too modest to listen to the suggestions of his friends to have his verses put into book form. He has also done much newspaper work, and last fall brought out a very successful book, "Boss Tom," a story of mining life in the anthracite coal regions.

Mr. Kemp succeeds the Rev. Jonathan Elmer Bittle, pastor of the congregation since its inception, 11 years ago. The installation will probably occur the Sunday after Easter. When Mr. Bittle was named for the position of superintendent of missions of the Pittsburgh synod, which he has accepted, Mr. Kemp was suggested as probable pastor. On February 5 he preached his trial sermon before the Turtle Creek congregation, and was at once chosen pastor by the board of the church.

Took Time to Consider.

Mr. Kemp asked until April 1 to come to a decision. The past four years he has been at Avonmore, Westmoreland county, and the charge there, it is said, is much more desirable in a number of respects. Pressure was brought to bear upon him by members of the Pittsburgh synod, and he finally accepted. The church at Avonmore is a large one and has an edifice out of debt.

Matthew Stanley Kemp was born in Tamaqua, Schuylkill county, almost 29 years ago, of English parents, his father having been a miner in the Cornish mines. He was baptized in the Methodist Episcopal church, of which his parents were also members. When a child his parents moved to Hazleton. At the age of 13 he united with the St. John's Primitive Methodist church of that place. At this time his thoughts turned toward the ministry. Early in his teens he was called frequently to read the Scripture lesson at the Sunday morning service. Some time later he transferred his membership to the Trinity Lutheran church of Hazleton.

Won Honors in School.

In his fifteenth year Mr. Kemp graduated from the Hazleton high school as honor pupil, and during that summer, 1890, studied Greek and Latin under the Rev. Dr. John Wagner, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church. The same fall he entered Gettysburg college, graduating with honors in 1894 in the 4-year classical course. During 1893-94, for his proficiency in mathematics, he was given charge of the astronomical observatory. He entered Gettysburg Theological seminary and graduated therefrom in 1897. His vacations were devoted to tutoring in Greek, Latin and Hebrew, and as colporteur for the American Bible society. He was ordained to the ministry by the the Susquehanna synod at Watsontown, Pa., in May, 1897.

Mr. Kemp was called the summer of his ordination by three charges, but accepted a call to Smicksburg, Indiana county, Pa., and organized a church there. He remained there almost four years. He was again called to a charge in New York state, which called him at the time he accepted the Smicksburg charge, but he felt that his work lay at Avonmore, Westmoreland county, and went there four years ago, where he built a church, raising $5,000 of the $11,000 by his own personal efforts. Last fall the last of the debt was cleared off by the boys of his Bible class, who had pledged $100 to the church fund, and $75 of this sum was raised by selling Mr. Kemp's book, "Boss Tom," by the publisher's rate granted them.

Retiring Pastor's Busy Life.

The Rev. Jonathan Elmer Bittle, the retiring pastor of the Alpha Lutheran church, has filled every office in the Pittsburgh synod. Like his successor at Turtle Creek, he was a graduate of Gettysburg college and Gettysburg Theological seminary. He graduated from the seminary in 1893, and at once went to Turtle Creek, where he began his work with 26 members. When there five months he started work on the present handsome church edifice with but half a dollar assets and with a debt of $50 upon the church lot. The congregation now has 325 members, a fine brick and stone church which will seat about 700, and a debt of but $600, which is already practically taken care of.

Last year Mr. Bittle was president of the Pittsburgh synod, in addition to his pastoral duties. He has been a member of the Turtle Creek school board the past four or five years, and is prominent in Masonic circles, being a member and past master of Valley lodge, F. and A. M. of Turtle Creek, and of other bodies of the fraternity in this city.

Preachers Exchange Pulpits.

Under the direction of Presiding Elder J. J. Murray, all the ministers of the McKeesport district of the Pittsburgh conference, Methodist Episcopal church, exchanged pulpits yesterday both morning and evening. A complete schedule was arranged, so that each preacher occupied a different pulpit morning and evening at a charge other than his own.

Sick and Homeless.

George Wilson, arrested on Saturday as a vagrant on Roberts street, explained yesterday that he had just been discharged from a hospital, where he had been sick, had no home and was not strong enough yet to work. He was put back until arrangements can be made to send him to Marshalsea.

CHRIST'S ENTRY IS CELEBRATED

Catholic Churches Observe Anniversary by Distribution of Palmetto.

THOUSANDS AT CEREMONIES

The one thousand eight hundred and seventy-second anniversary of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, when the people strewed palm branches beneath the feet of the ass he rode and cried hosannah, was celebrated yesterday in the Catholic churches all the world over. In the Pittsburgh diocese this day of the Savior's brief popularity in Jerusalem was celebrated in the usual way. It is a joyful feast of the church and, just as in the holy city, the cries of hosannah gave way to the shouts of "crucify Him" five days later, so the sorrow of Passion week now succeeds the paeans of joy which characterized the church services of Palm Sunday.

Thousands of persons were observed yesterday after the service of the mass decorated with strips of the palmetto, which in this country is used instead of the palm of Bible history. Women wore a bit of it in their coats or in their hats, while the men wore the strips in the form of a bow, or, more appropriately, fashioned like a cross in the lapel buttonhole. Large portions of the palmetto were suspended above sacred pictures in the Catholic homes, where they will remain until another Palm Sunday brings a fresh supply of the token of honor and greatness.

Palms to Be Burned.

Symbolic of this change in the Savior's condition is the destination of the palms which remained undisturbed in the churches of the diocese. Following the custom of many hundreds of years, they will be burned and the ashes, laid away, will be used on Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the season of Our Lord's fasting, to impress upon the brow of the faithful the token of the earthly decay of the human body.

Chief interest was taken, of course, in the blessing and distribution of the palms in Epiphany church, for that is now the temporary cathedral, pending the completion of the new edifice of St. Paul's. Solemn high mass was sung at the usual time, and an unusual number of worshippers attended the sacrifice. A huge quantity of palms had been provided and each churchgoer received a liberal portion. At all the other churches in the diocese the same ceremonies were performed.

It is only within comparatively few years that the palmetto has been used in the northern churches as a substitute for the palm, for before that time the transportation facilities were so meager that other remoter substitutes—twigs of cedar, even of pine and spruce, were used, when middle-aged churchgoers were boys and girls, just as in England the boxwood, yew and willow continue to be blessed this day.

Pope Gave Him Monopoly.

A commercial minded man who saw the thousands of persons carrying palm branches yesterday made the remark that he would like to have the monopoly of supplying the Catholic churches of the United States with the palms used on Palm Sunday. He was told the story of the Italian who secured the privilege of supplying Rome with palms in the days of Pope Sextus V. This pope erected in the front of St. Peter's church the obelisk which formerly stood in Nero's circus.

It was considered a difficult piece of engineering and to prevent the attention of the workmen from being diverted, the enormous crowd was forbidden to speak, on pain of death, while the monolith was being raised. A young naval officer, who by reason of his profession, knew all about block and tackle, was in the crowd. The obelisk was half-way up the perpendicular when the ropes began to smoke and the officer, realizing that in a moment they would catch fire from the friction, and the obelisk would fall and be shattered to pieces, cried out: "Throw on water."

The attention of the foreman in charge was diverted, sure enough, but only to obey the injunction. Water was applied and the obelisk was planted where it stands today. The impulsive officer was seized and hustled before the pope, who gave the brave fellow his choice of a reward. He asked for the exclusive right of supplying the pontifical ceremonies with palms, secured the monopoly and it is enjoyed by his descendants, a noble Roman family, today.

Observed by All Denominations.

Palm Sunday is the beginning of Holy Week. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons the ceremony of Tenebrae will be performed at the Epiphany and a few other churches of the diocese. On Holy Thursday the bishop will solemnize the mass of the day and will bless the holy oils. Priests from all over the diocese are requested to come with cassock, amict, alb and cincture, and those of Allegheny and Pittsburgh are especially urged to attend, as on some occasions there has hardly been a sufficient number of priests to fill the requirements of the rubrics.

St. Martin's church will be open all Thursday night for the accommodation of those who wish to make a visit to the sacred hosts. On Good Friday and Holy Saturday the usual services in the churches will be performed.

Unseasonable weather worked little toward detracting from a general observance of Palm Sunday in churches of all denominations in the two cities. Special and elaborate musical programs were provided generally, while Roman Catholic and Episcopal congregations were a unit in making this one of the features of their services. White-frocked confirmation classes and the wearing of the palm sprig lent the appropriate sentiment to the occasion.

In St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church yesterday afternoon Stainer's famous sacred cantata "The Crucifixion," was sung in artistic style by a double quartet before a large congregation. An offering was taken which will be donated to the Kingsley house.

Men Must Not Dodge Work.

The Rev. David Gregg, LL. D., president-elect of the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny, preached in the Men's club of Calvary Presbyterian church, Braddock, last evening. Dr. Gregg took for his text, "Zebedee, or Why Not the Men as Well as the Women?" He said that it was time for the pendulum to swing back toward the men, that they should resume the church work that they had shifted upon the women in recent generations.

A Living Monument.

If we were to assemble all those who have been cured of heart disease by Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and who would to-day be in their graves had not Dr. Miles' been successful in perfecting this wonderful heart specific, they would populate a large city.

What a remarkable record—a breathing, thinking, moving monument, composed of human lives,—that for which every other earthly possession is sacrificed.

"I feel indebted to the Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for my life. I desire to call the attention of others suffering as I did to this remarkable remedy for the heart. For a long time I had suffered from shortness of breath after any little exertion, palpitation of the heart; and at times terrible pain in the region of the heart, so serious that I feared that I would some time drop dead upon the street. One day I read one of your circulars, and immediately went to my druggist and purchased two bottles of the Heart Cure, and took it according to directions, with the result that I am entirely cured. Since then I never miss an opportunity to recommend this remedy to my friends who have heart trouble; in fact I am a traveling advertisement, for I am widely known in this locality."

J. H. BOWMAN,
Manager of Lebanon Democrat, Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

HUNTING WIDOWS SHE LOSES BELLES

Now the Fair Show Girl Fears Her Stage Career Is Blasted.

SHE SIMPLY MIXES NAMES

Because she mixed the names of burlesque troupes, a dazzling would-be showgirl from Altoona yesterday afternoon at the Union station missed her train, her engagement in the sextet and, she fears, has ruined her stage career for life. She will tarry in Pittsburgh for the present and will take another fling at the stage. This is how it all happened:

When a Pennsylvania train came in from the east a young woman with one of the season's newest tailor-made suits of buff gray broadcloth and a conspicuous red hat stepped from the train. Through the long corridor of the station she hurried as fast as her exceptionally high-heeled light tan shoes would carry her. In her hand she carried a tiny bag made of leather that matched the shoes. At the tips of her white-gloved fingers she dangled the checks for the three wardrobe trunks that constituted her baggage.

"Have you seen anything of the Kentucky Widows tonight?" she asked one of the waiters in the restaurant as she sat down to dinner. She removed her gloves and displayed several diamonds as big as cherries.

"Beg pardon, mum?" asked the waiter.

"Have you seen the Kentucky Widows?" she repeated.

"I—I—I—I don't think I know any Kentucky ladies," stammered the waiter. "I'm sure I know no widows down there."

"Oh, they're not widows," she cried impatiently. "The Kentucky Widows' is the name of a show—a burlesque troupe. I am a member of that company and I am——"

"Oh, you're a widow?" began the waiter, trying to comprehend.

"Heavens, no," cried the fair burlesquer with a frown that instantly sent the quivering waiter back to the pantry. When he returned she resumed:

"I came here to join the 'Kentucky Widows,' who are going somewhere in the northern part of the state, where they give a performance tomorrow night. The girls in the company are not widows, of course. There are several burlesque companies with names of widows. That is their trademark. Don't you understand?"

While this conversation was going on the Kentucky Belles Burlesque Company went through on their jump to their next stand. The Altoona girl looked in vain, still seeking the "Kentucky Widows." She finally asked a waoman where she could find a good place to stay over night and incidentally asked him if he had seen anything of the straggling widows.

"No," he answered, "but the manager of the Kentucky Belles was here less than an hour ago."

The disconsolate showgirl stamped her foot until the three-inch heels rattled on the stone pavement like Irish clogs. Then she sprang into the cab and whirled away through the snowstorm.

DAUGHTERS WILL HAVE BUSY TIME

Descendants of Our Revolutionary Forefathers to Elect a President This Week.

CANDIDATES ARE HUSTLING

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Daughters of the American Revolution, the most picturesque, richest and most historic body which meets at the national capital, will assemble tomorrow in their unfinished "Continental hall," which is to cost about $500,000. The notable women from the west who will be in attendance are Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, wife of the vice president; Mrs. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois; Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, vice president general of Illinois; Mrs. John M. Carey, and Mrs. G. M. Sternburg of Indiana; Mrs. John A. Murphy of Ohio and Mrs. Mary Wood Swift of San Francisco.

The question which is agitating the van guard and the executive committee is the election of a president-general. The three women prominently mentioned so far for president-general are Mrs. Donald McLean of New York, Mrs. George M. Sternburg of Indiana and Mrs. Warren Lippitt of Rhode Island. These candidates are playing politics already, one of the reports being that Mrs. Donald McLean is not enthusiastic as to the erection of the Continental hall. This Mrs. McLean is denying vigorously, as a pre-election canard. The question of the presidency and the making of plans to raise money to complete the hall are the two matters of most importance, but there always develop discussions on current topics affecting the status of the women of the land.

Politics in Plenty.

There is a Fairbanks machine in the Daughters of the American Revolution, just as there is in the state of Indiana. At least, this is the claim of Mrs. McLean's friends. They further allege the Fairbanks machine is pulling every string to beat Mrs. McLean and elect Mrs. Sternburg. Mrs. Sternburg is said to be strong throughout the country, where she is well known by reason of her splendid work as chairman of the ways and means committee.

The dark horse is Mrs. Lippitt. She is the wife of a former governor of Rhode Island, and has been the state regent for several years. Mrs. Sarah T. Kinney of Rhode Island has been managing her campaign for the presidency-general. Little is known of the strength of Mrs. Lippitt, but it is said if the followers of Mrs. Sternburg cannot elect the latter, they will throw their votes to Mrs. Lippitt. It seems to be a case of anything to beat Mrs. McLean.

Although there are 1,000 delegates eligible to vote in the congress, it is thought not more than 600 will attend. A majority is necessary to elect. In addition to the president-general, 10 vice presidents-general will be elected.

More Money Needed.

The memorial Continental hall, up to the present time, has cost $175,000. Fifty thousand dollars was expended for the site, $30,000 for the foundation and $95,000 for the auditorium. About $270,000 more is required to finish it. Eleven memorial doors will be contributed by various chapters. They will cost $100 each. The state of Indiana, which has contributed three presidents—general to the society—Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Fairbanks, have agreed to furnish a president-general's room. The Ohio chapters will also furnish a room for their state.

It is not known whether there will be a reception to the Daughters of the American Revolution at the White House. This is holy week and there is very little going on in the way of society functions. The formal exercises will begin tomorrow at 2 p. m., and there will be a jubilee meeting at night. The address of welcome will be delivered by Mrs. Fairbanks. Two sessions will be held daily.

VANDERBILT AND DEPEW TO DISCUSS COMBINATION

Will Meet in Paris and Arrange Details of Uniting Family Securities.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 16.—Senator Chauncey M. Depew will meet William K. Vanderbilt in Paris during the first week in July. It is expected that at this conference the final details will be arranged for a mammoth holding company of all the Vanderbilt securities. It is understood here that this would have been accomplished before had not the Northern Securities case in the supreme court cautioned delay. The successful operation of the J. P. Mackey Company, which placed its share from all the interests of the late John Mackey in the Commercial Cable Company, Postal Telegraph and other enterprises, will probably be followed, as the plan adopted does not contain the objectionable features of the Northern Securities case.

Mr. Vanderbilt places great store on Senator Depew's knowledge of the present administration's policy, due to his inquiries while in Washington, as well as of the legal points involved.

Senator Depew, a connecting link between the Morgan and Vanderbilt followings and the legal firm of Stetson, Jennings & Russell, the senior member of which was President Cleveland's partner, is employed by both.

It was Frances Lynde Stetson who laid out the Northern Securities plan, and his mistakes in that case will be taken advantage of when he finds the legal loopholes for the Vanderbilt company. At least these are the opinions which prevail in London.

Body of Man Recovered.

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 16.—(Special.)—The body of John Peas, a painter of East Liverpool, who was drowned there 10 days ago, was recovered here today by a ferryman. It was floating in the river.

Dies at Age of 90.

SHARON, April 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Daniel Smith, 90 years old, died this morning. She was probably the oldest woman in Sharon.

MORE ROOM NECESSARY.

The business of the Pittsburgh agency of the Equitable Life Assurance society has grown so extensively within the last year that additional office space has become necessary.

A large room adjoining the present offices in the Frick building has been secured and fitted up as a filing room, thus removing the files from the business office and giving largely increased space. The business of the entire society has been growing at a remarkable rate since the first of the year. During the month of March the increase was $10,000,000 over the corresponding month of last year, and during the first ten days of April the lead was increased a million and a half more, and the growth is not due to a few large policies, as is shown by the fact that 1,211 more lives were assured during March of this year than during the same period of 1903.

The investment of estate funds is made by The Safe Deposit & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, Fourth avenue and Wood street, only upon the approval of the executive committee, consisting of officers and directors experienced in judging the value of securities. The entire resources of the company are liable for the faithful performance of trusts administered by it.

LESSONS FROM FAILURE HELP BUILD SUCCESSES

The Rev. Dr. W. A. Stanton Holds One Generation Rises Upon Achievements of Another.

"Lessons from Human Failure" was the sermon topic of the Rev. W. A. Stanton in the Shady Avenue Baptist church, last evening. Dr. Stanton held that history proved that the majority had failed, but that only the remnant of success in one generation was the base upon which the second generation was built, and that by building success upon successes that the world had been constantly growing better. In this connection, Dr. Stanton said in part:

Ordinarily we prefer to talk about human success rather than failure. Some one has defined a pessimist as one who, when confronted by a choice between two evils, takes them both. We all know people so constituted. If they are pessimists, an optimist must be one who chooses the lesser evil and strenuously seeks to get out of it whatever of good there may be in it. In that spirit we may seek the lessons to be found in human failures.

Paul faced this problem when he studied the long line of disasters that had befallen his people; he found consolation in the fact that in every generation there was a choice remnant which was not a failure and which multiplied itself in the next generation. This idea he persistently followed through Hebrew history till he came to his own days, so dark for his race; courageously he said, "At this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace." These last words give the key to Paul's optimism. He had abundant confidence in God's perseverance with man, however weak his faith may have been in man's perseverance toward God.

In all stages of human history, the majority of men had failed but God had not failed, and the minority who held fast to Him had not. Each new generation builds upon the success of this remnant, not upon the failures of the majority. Hence the structure of success grows higher and higher. It is cumulative in its rise. Each generation also builds a little more than the one before it built. For example, if we say that one generation build upward one foot, the next built upward one foot and a quarter, the next one foot and a half, and so on. There never were so many good people in the world as there are in this generation, and no generation of previous good people ever built so much as this one. Our successors will surpass us. To change the figure, it is the little leaven leavening the whole lump.

It is also true that there never was so much sin in the world and so many bad people, as today. Both things are true; we must look at both, but we must never forget that this remnant of good is gaining on the bad and in time is bound to control and annihilate it. If you disagree with this, your quarrel is not with me fundamentally, but with the teachings of Jesus, of the Bible, as a history and prophecy, and of all human history. The last lesson of human failure will be the lesson of divine success.

In a general way, Old Testament history may be divided into six periods. Call the first the Edenic, marked by immediate fellowship with God; man failed and lost his fellowship with God and his happy home. Then came a period of conscience government; man had learned the difference between right and wrong, there seems to have been no external law, only the guidance of the "inner light;" this period ends with the flood and a remnant of eight souls. The third period is called the theocracy and it closed with a little remnant entering the promised land of Canaan, while the bones of the rest bleached in the wilderness all along the way from Goshen to Jordan. Anarchy marked the period of the Judges; we read in the record that "in those days there was no king in Israel, every man did that which was right in his own eyes." The cry for a king was raised and the fifth period was reached. The period of kingship. What a story of blood and envy, of sin and sorrow it is. Finally the captivity in Babylon blotted it out. The sixth, and last period, was that of the Restoration and it too ended with the fall of Jerusalem, the final destruction of the temple, and the denationalization and homelessness of the Jews.

The history of this one people is a type of others. But as each epoch closed, there was the blessed remnant, the seed corn, the root in the ground from which something was to come. Seth, Noah, Samuel, Joshua and Caleb, the prophets—they represent the remnant. So long as there are such in the world, the world is not lost. The Divine plan moves on. Men fail but God and the remnant abide. Sin abounds, but so does grace. So it always has been, and so it is today. As Paul put it, "Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace," and the lesson of failure is learned when we believe and obey him who said, "Believe in God; believe also in me."

SPECULATIVE ACTIVITY HAS A FRESH SPASM

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 16.—Wall street's security markets are undergoing a fresh spasm of speculative activity. Out of the uncertainty and feverishness which prevailed in the early part of the week, there originated a marked revival in activity, accompanied by sensational advances in several important and, from the market point of view, influential properties. In the renewal of speculative activity the professional element has enlisted the outside public to a greater extent than has existed in the stock market since the so-called Lawson break of last December. It is a peculiar development to note that the majority of the active professional traders was seriously divided at the outset as to the course to pursue, and as prices were reflecting this uncertainty in the feverish and highly irregular movements in the first part of the week, that within 24 hours the whole aspect of the financial situation should change. Yet change it did in no uncertain manner, and with the change there was introduced the outside public, who, as usual, bought stocks of all descriptions with customary abandon.

Noting the developments of the week as they occurred, the change from uncertainty to a pronounced bullishness on the part of the speculative community is readily explainable. The government has reported an excellent and auspicious condition of the growing winter wheat and the iron and trade journals have compiled statistics of production of raw materials which show that never in the history of the industry in the United States have there been so large a production and consumption as is reported for the month of March. These are stable and important factors by which the public at large is accustomed to judge of the business future and, timorous as they have been in the past, the public felt that with this important news as a basis they could readily believe the statements of the market experts.

It is unlikely that any conservative banker or broker at the present time would advise his clients that the present market offers any profitable field for investment. He would rather say that the market is in a highly speculative condition, with nearly 100 per cent of the day's transactions of a purely speculative character. It is true that occasionally one hears of bond transfers on the exchange for investment purposes, but bond dealers find that their market of a few months ago has disappeared. The entire list of active securities, which can be bought on an investment basis, is exceedingly limited. This fact is now lost sight of, and it seems to be a commonplace statement nowadays that the financial community does not care for discrimination or calculation concerning income returns, etc.

The street is entirely absorbed in learning which stock is likely to be advanced to points above the prevailing quotations. Merit, earning powers and dividend records are seldom consulted. The brokers who are urging caution to their clients are unpopular. Efforts of those who point out that in the steel business a climax of production has been reached are ridiculed. It is the individual who tells the most fantastic and lurid stories of the prices to which quotations—not intrinsic values—are to be sent, who apparently commands the most attention. The moderate profits that have been made has stirred the lust of gain, which has suddenly throttled ordinary business sense and desire to weigh and deliberate on investment. It seems to look as if the credulity of the public was reaching flood tide.

Mystery has played its usual part in the speculative market in the week. There have been, as stated, the actual developments for which figures have been given in the iron and steel trade conditions, the forecasts and conditions of the winter wheat crop, the larger exports of cotton and corn during March, the better foreign trade statement and the slight relaxation in money rates. It is, however, in the list of railroad stocks where rumor has played so highly important a part in advancing prices. Given the basis of the aforesaid favorable developments, the prospect of easy money in addition, and add the mystery element, and one has all the possible qualifications of a successful speculative stock market. Sentiment plays the most important part, and until it is adversely affected, there is little likelihood of any change in present market conditions. There will be unwarranted and unreasonable advances in this issue or that which will serve to drive the speculators who missed the profits into frenzy because of their seeming misfortune. Becoming more gullible they will adopt bolder tactics, until from some unseen quarter the awakening blow will be delivered.

Completing But Few Wells in the Lower Southwest Fields

The past week's developments in the lower southwest fields contained less of general interest to the trade than has been experienced in months. Fewer wells were completed and the average size of the producers was below that of any former week during the expired portion of the year.

There is little hope for a revival of operations under present conditions. Producing territory is hard to find and the continued decline of the market makes the outlook all the more discouraging. The deep sand districts in West Virginia have been supplying the most of the new production for a long time, but the market has now fallen to a point where the average operator will prefer to drill his 2nd and 3d and rather than drill for small producers, with the very large expense attached and the chances of getting dusters in all fields growing less at all times.

The 30-foot development, west of Manningtion, Marion county, has been the only district that has furnished any number of wells of any considerable size. Early in the development of the pool there was some speculation as to the size of the pool, but it has now passed the speculative stage as to acreage, capable of supplying wells of the profitable kind. On the west side the good producer completed by the Freehold Oil and Gas Company is holding up at 750 barrels a day and will add a few locations to that side of the pool. The pool has been fruitful of surprises. The well just named is located on the Grubb farm and had it come in a light producer, or worse still, a duster, it would have caused no great surprise. Almost in the center of the pool light wells were encountered when but a few hundred feet removed from the latter started at gusher speed when drilled into the pay.

In Ten Mile district, Harrison county, there is considerable new work under way and starting on Salem Fork. Some fair producers have been completed in this district and the present week should furnish a number of completions, located for the most part on town lots. These developments as in the past have never been taken seriously for the reason that the wells decline rapidly, no matter how large the initial production.

North of Littleton, Wetzel county, the fifth sand district got a black eye when Courtney & McDermott drilled their test on the Thomas farm, through the lower sand and found the formation barren. Operations in this district have fallen off in the past few months. Some old wells are drilling down to the lower sands but the results recently have not been very satisfactory.

The Smithfield and Pine Grove districts are less active than at any time for more than a year. The gas companies are doing considerable work and getting some very good gas wells.

In all districts shooting the old wells is still a feature. Near Bula, Battelle district, Monongalia county, the South Penn was liberally compensated when it gave its old No. 1 on the S. S. Eddy farm a shot on Friday last and the well responded by placing 300 barrels to its credit the ensuing 12 hours.

The fifth sand district, near Fairview, Marion county, has not been able to furnish anything better than light pumpers for several weeks. The South Penn company has one quite remarkable producer in this development. It is this company's No. 1 on the A. Conway farm, is now more than five months old and is still producing better than 100 barrels a day. During the week D. Iseman & Co. completed a very light fifth sand well on the Clark Tennant farm. The producing limits of this district have been fully defined, but there still remain many wells that once produced from the Big Injun, to be drilled to the deep sand.

In Lewis county the gas companies are getting ready to put in a large amount of development work. This county is the most prolific in gas of any in the lower southwest. It was expected that the search for gas would result in the discovery of some new oil producing territory, but it has not materialized. Nothing in the way of oil production has been found since the discovery and development of the Sand Fork pool. On several occasions the outlook was promising, but proved disappointments.

In the shallow sand districts the Yellow Creek and Rowells Run developments in Calhoun county are the only two that show any activity. This county has some experimental work starting and there is a bare possibility that a new pool may be discovered. The late completions in the old developments have been of a lower average in production, but of sufficient size to make them profitable.

Operators on the Ohio side are as much interested in the discovery of new producing territory as in West Virginia. The old fields have been defined and nearly all fully developed. The finding of new pools is all that can bring about a revival in operations. Southeastern Ohio operators have somewhat the advantage over the West Virginian in that it is all shallow sand territory, and even though the market is low can be operated profitably.

The only new discovery that is claiming any attention is the Southern Oil Company's Big Lime producer, on the W. E. Moore farm, Southeast of Jerusalem, in Monroe county. This well was drilled in more than a week ago and started at about 75 barrels a day and has been holding up steadily at that rate. It would seem that there must be something basic of the well to make it hold up and it may be that a Big Lime pool can be developed in that locality. The Southern Oil Company, the oil producing branch of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company, is starting a second test on the same farm, and other parties have made locations on adjacent farms.

PRESIDENT'S CAMP ISOLATED.

Secretary Loeb Has Had No Word from Mr. Roosevelt's Hunting Party in the Mountains.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, COL., April 16.—No word reached Secretary Loeb today from President Roosevelt's camp and it is not known here whether the sport goes well or ill with the party. The communication will be opened tomorrow, and it is expected that a courier will arrive early in the morning. On his return trip he will carry to the president a large batch of personal mail. There is a telephone about four miles from the camp but the subscriber has discouraged its use as a means of sending out news of the hunt.

Secretary Loeb and other members of the president's party, who have headquarters at the Hotel Colorado, today swam in the hot springs pool with icy rain falling on their heads and snow falling heavily on the surrounding mountain tops.

Italy Thanks J.P. Morgan.

ROME, April 16.—J. Pierpont Morgan of New York was received here today by Foreign Minister Tittoni, who renewed in the name of the government his thanks for Mr. Morgan's generosity in returning the Ascoli cope. The minister also expressed the high appreviation of the Italian people for the course pursued by Mr. Morgan.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK IN THE LOCAL MARKETS

Butter Famine Brings Change of Quotations and Price Will Go Still Higher.

Business generally showed a decided improvement the past week in the local market, but it was nothing extraordinary and scarcely as good as the corresponding week last year. The weather greatly interfered with trade, which is the excuse generally given by dealers.

Butter was the most active article in the lower market and the quotation was changed in the middle of the week, probably the first time this was ever done. Butter frequently sells at a premium, but it has never before been known to change in quotations previous to the announcement by the Elgin board.

Eggs were also exceedingly scarce and the price was raised to 18 and 19 cents on strictly fresh, select stock. The excuse given for the scarcity of eggs now is that farmers are too busy with spring ploughing to go to market with the fruits of the hennery.

Groceries have done a good business the past week. Flour has been inactive, owing to the uncertainty in the wheat market. Sugar is the strongest article in the grocery line just now, and a little flurry is looked for this week in the sugar market. Coffee is firm, despite the weakness which developed last week in the east.

Green goods enjoyed an excellent trade last week, while fruits and produce found ready sale. Dealers in these lines were well satisfied with the week's business.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain Saturday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 4 cars oats, 1 car oats and rye, 15 cars hay, 1 car wheat, 1 car ear corn; Baltimore & Ohio, 17 cars hay, 10 cars oats, 2 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 2 cars hay, 3 cars oats.

The hay and grain market remained about steady during the past week on oats, and what change did take place was toward a stronger market. Ear corn continues very scarce. The demand is good for clean timothy at advanced quotations, but clover and heavy mixed are a drug on the market, caused by the near approach of pasture. Straw is in scant supply and quotations are advanced. Millfeed is dull and unchanged.

GREER'S MEN WINNERS IN MERCER PRIMARIES

Shaffer and Reamer Nominees for County Commissioners in Westmoreland—Results in Other Counties.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SHARON, April 16.—With one exception, that of county treasurer, ex-County Chairman James L. Greer's slated candidates were nominated in yesterday's Republican primaries in Mercer county. The contest for commissioner is close, but it is probable that Ewing M. Hosack and James P. Gill are nominated. The rest of the ticket nominated is as follows: Sheriff, J. W. Hawthorne of Pine township; prothonotary, George K. Fowler of Sandy Lake township; clerk of courts, Hugh O. Jones of Sharon; recorder, D. C. Young; treasurer, Michael Zahniser of Mercer; district attorney, T. C. Cochran of Mercer; poor director, Oliver J. Perrine of Jackson Center. The delegates to the state convention will be John P. Barr, E. B. Buchanan, Matt Keck and J. W. Robbins.

GREENSBURG, April 16.—It is estimated that 14,000 votes were cast yesterday afternoon at the Republican primaries. Up until late tonight only 80 districts of the 160 had been heard from. B. C. Shaffer of New Kensington and W. D. Reamer of Greensburg, both led Hugh Price by 5,400 votes, making them the nominees for county commissioners. Dr. Charles A. Wynn is nominated for coroner, leading Dr. James Harkins of Mt. Pleasant by 700 votes. There is doubt regarding the three places for poor director. Robert Bovard leads for poor director; A. D. McConnell for judge; H. F. Bovard for county treasurer, and County Chairman Gallagher for register, had no opposition. The candidates for delegates to the state convention are: L. U. Dick, J. C. Murphy, H. A. Boal, H. E. Bonsall, D. E. Carle, J. J. B. Walla, Ben Steel, J. C. Giffen and C. F. Ely. Former Sheriff Harry F. Seamor has been selected by the leaders for county chairman.

FRANKLIN, April 16.—Returns from the Republican primaries received up to tonight indicate that the following ticket has been nominated: President judge, George S. Criswell, Franklin; prothonotary, Judge Thompson, Oil City; register and recorder, D. K. Buchanan, Rockland township; treasurer, T. Frank Algeo, Franklin; county commissioner, John W. Phillips, Cranberry township, and Charles W. Shanes, Franklin; county auditors, S. B. Baker, Irwin township, and George O. Stiles, Pine Grove township.

BELLEFONTE, April 16.—A hard fight was made in the Republican primaries against Abram V. Miller and John C. Bailey, the present county commissioners, who were seeking re-nomination, and it looks as if one of them is defeated. The nomination for county treasurer is also undecided.

NEW CASTLE, April 16.—County Commissioner James A. McMillen was renominated in the Republican primaries Saturday, the other successful candidate being John F. Pitts of Mt. Jackson. Lafayette Baldwin of Shenango township won by a decisive majority for county treasurer over William E. Agnew of this city. For prothonotary Charles A. Andrews of this city had no opposition. Neither had James Elder and E. J. Kemm for county auditors. State delegates will be Edwin M. Ohl, W. J. McKim, James G. Martin and Thomas J. McCullough.

Woman Is Badly Burned.

CONNELLSVILLE, April 16.—(Special.)—Mrs. Dora Flynn, aged 47 years, of Broadford was burned this morning as the result of her skirt catching fire while passing an open grate. In making the kitchen fire she had wiped off the oil can with her skirt and the oil on her skirt caught from the grate. Her son Jacob extinguished the flames, but not until the flesh on her legs, arms and abdomen was burned to a crisp. She was removed to the hospital.

The Republicans of Westmoreland county Saturday selected as their candidates: Harry F. Bovard for county treasurer, Alexander D. McConnell for comman pleas judge, B. C. Shaffer for county commissioner, James H. Gallagher for recorder of deeds, W. Dick Reamer for county commissioner, and Charles A. Wynn for coroner.

DIVORCE IS RECOMMENDED.

Woman Leaves Husband, Whom She Married Through Agency of Matrimonial Bureau.

UNIONTOWN, April 16.—(Special.)—As the result of an unsatisfactory matrimonial alliance consummated through the agency of a matrimonial bureau, Amzi S. Fullem, now of Normalville, has applied for a divorce, and the decree has been recommended by Attorney C. D. Clarke, master, who heard the testimony. He and his wife were married in Uniontown in March, 1902, and went to housekeeping in Connellsville. All went well until July, 1902, when Mrs. Fullem went to Pittsburgh to visit a sister. In two weeks she returned, remaining a few days, packed her goods and went away. Mr. Fullem says she persisted in her desertion since that time.

At the hearing one witness testified that she said Fullem was too old; that she wanted a man who would go to dances. She is 27 and Fullem about 40. The woman came from Grand Rapids, Mich., as the result of an advertisement and subsequent correspondence. She was recognized at the station by a photograph which she had sent ahead.

WARREN, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—At midnight last night the Penn Shovel Company of this city made an assignment. The company moved here from Corry a year ago, and until recently was supposed to be in the best condition financially. The company's liabilities are about $50,000, with $35,000 quick assets. Most of the stock is owned by Warren people. A. G. Judd was appointed receiver.

ABSTINENCE DAY IS CELEBRATED AT IRWIN

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

IRWIN, April 16.—Abstinence day in honor of the Greensburg, Latrobe and Madison societies, under the auspices of the Irwin society of the Catholic Total Abstinence union, was a great success. Visitors and delegations arrived in large numbers and the school hall this afternoon was crowded to the limit. Besides members, the Grand Army of the Republic of Irwin was present in uniform, and members of the Irwin Good Templars had a prominent part in the exercises.

The women of the local society, assisted by the Total Abstinence Cadets, tendered a reception and served a lunch for the visitors. After this the meeting was held. It was presided over by President Noel of the Irwin society. The Rev. Thomas McEntyre of the Immaculate Conception church, in behalf of the society, delivered the address of welcome, and he received a magnificent bouquet from the children. Addresses followed by John McConnery, Stephen Madden and Charles D. McShane of Pittsburgh. A message of regret was received from the Rev. Father Beane, president of the union of the Pittsburgh diocese. Addresses were also delivered by John Sprague of the Greensburg society and Richard Hitchins of Irwin.

Music was furnished by Miss Marie Carroll and the cadets. The meeting closed by singing "America." After the meeting a large number joined the local organization, among them 75 women and 25 boys, and all members present renewed their pledge as read by the Rev. Father McEnrue.

CHURCH IS DEDICATED.

A. Maxwell of McKeesport. The service was in charge of the pastor of the church, the Rev. Alexander Wilding.

At a meeting this afternoon the principal speaker was the Rev. Howard Stewart of Philadelphia, and all the local clergymen occupied seats on the rostrum. This evening the sermon was preached by the Rev. J. A. Ferman of Indiana. At the three services a debt of $4,500 was practically wiped out. Special musical programs were provided for the three meetings, the following being the soloists: Mrs. J. H. McQuiston of Pittsburgh, Miss Virginia Davis of Indiana, Pa., and L. B. [SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., April 16.—Through a veil of snowflakes 7,000 fans saw the slab debut of Orvall Overall against a big league club today. He had speed, could put the ball almost where he wanted and his curves seemed to break well, yet the big pitcher had no secret against the Pirates, who won, 9 to 4.

A yellow dog must have howled under the window of Overall's flat the night before or some other ill-omened thing happened to put the Indian sign on him before he tackled his first big job at home. It was just such an Overall afternoon as it was a Phillippe afternoon the day before.

Those occasions happen to the best of them and Overall did not show any lack of form that justified the welcome that his delivery met from the other fellows. After two innings he was called to the bench and the crowd, who liked the big fellow's performance to a man, yelled encouragement for another day in the box.

Cheech took up the game and pitched winning ball right from the start down to the last inning, when Pittsburgh jumped on him for three hits and as many runs. All the luck was with Clarke and his fellows, yet there is no detracting from the quality of the game pitched by Robertaille. It seemed as if the goose was on the fire in the sixth, but he pulled it off without having it scorched.

The game was a cold proposition. The wind howled across the field and in the teeth of the gale, as mariners tell about it, had an arctic bite. Taking the remarkable attendance as a basis for a guess, it is likely that a gang would have been there if the teams had played on snowshoes. It was so cold that good fielding was difficult, yet the errors only totaled seven, and the Pirates had a bulge of one on the count.

When 7,351 citizens will come to witness a game and enjoy it, too, on a day like today, then it behooves the ground keeper to chain down the fences for the Fourth of July. Manager Bancroft has announced that through the season Sunday games will be played if the contest falls in the category of baseball games. Today he proved that he meant it, and despite the frigidity of the atmosphere the game was good, except that the Reds lost, 9 to 4.

Trouble was in the air when Overall trotted out to work and was given a greeting as warm as a fur overcoat looked to the fellows that had come out in Easter bloom. Clymer, Wagner and Clancy crowded in singles and Steinfeldt's chilled fingers did not close on Leach's fast grounder, so the Pirates had two runs real quick. When Overall faced them again Peitz singled, Clymer walked and Clarke tripled. Beaumont hit a fly, too, and the game was won on the run count of five, as things developed.

Robertaille Uses High Ball.

Pittsburgh just ate up Overall's speed and nibbled artistically at his curves, and he had to be called in, disappointed as were the enthusiasts at his departure. It was good baseball and Overall's chance will come another time soon.

Robertaille had principally a high ball, that he kept the Reds reaching for on the outside corner of the plate. Most of his effectiveness lay in this delivery location. He gave the best exhibition of any Pirate pitcher yet seen here in action, but he needed all the luck that broke behind him to win. The monsieur was hit safely eight times and two of the errors by Pirate support in the score, but it was the inability of the Reds to hit safely in the promising looking sixth that saved trouble for the young pitcher.

The three runs made off Cheech would not have counted had Clymer not punched a spike into Dolan's foot and made Cozy drop Steinfeldt's throw in the ninth. That was one instance of how the luck broke. The score:

CHICAGO, April 16.—Chicago defeated St. Louis today, 5 to 0. The game was fast and errorless. Chicago bunched its hits in the fifth inning, knocking out two three-base hits. Altrock was master of the situation, and held St. Louis safe. A one-hand catch by Wallace of F. Jones' high fly was the feature of the game. The weather was cold, a light snow falling occasionally, but the attendance was 8,616. The score:

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL NEWS

Wisconsin's baseball prospects received a setback last week with the loss of Perry and Holtz, two of the veteran infielders. Perry quit the squad, while Holtz was barred by the faculty's edict.

The following men have been chosen as candidates for the Dickinson college relay team: A. J. Standing, R. M. Dunkleberger, H. H. Greybill, W. T. Hammond, A. C. Oliver and H. C. Nuttle.

The Princeton University Gun club schedule follows: April 28, Trenton Shooting association, at Trenton; April 29, University of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia; May 6, Harvard, at Princeton; May 8, Intercollegiate shoot, at Philadelphia; May 13, Yale at Princeton. The schedule includes one more match than last year.

It does not look as if Michigan is going to get her usual share of promising "prep" school football players for next fall. A freshman of next year to be eligible must have entered college this spring, and Crane, an ex-captain of Hyde Park, is the only one on the ground who has any considerable reputation. He is a halfback and will try for Heston's old position.

With the University of Pennsylvania relay race but two weeks off, Bucknell's track men are hard at work trying to get in shape for the meet. The outlook for a winning quartet is not very encouraging. Of last year's team Pearse and Thatcher have left college, while Capt. Marsh and Gaskill are running in old-time form. The two new men will be picked from a squad of 20 candidates. For vacant positions, Davis, '07, and Drey, '08, are the most promising. The latter is new at the game, but he runs well and has the earmarks of a comer. Among the other candidates out are: Lesher, '05; Denninger, '06; Comstock, '06; Cyre, '08; Bruker, '07; Baldwin, '08; Osbourne, '06; Whitney, '06; Baker, '07; Warnke, '08; Luchinger, '08, and Gardner, '08. For the first time Bucknell academy has entered a team, and will compete in class No. 9.

April 29—University of Pennsylvania relay races, at Philadelphia.

May 20—All-round athletic championship of the college.

May 26-27—S. C. A. A. A. A., at Philadelphia.

June 10—Interclass meet.

SQUEEZER PLAY STARTED IN THE MINOR LEAGUES

SOUTH BEND, IND., April 16.—(Special.)—The "squeeze" is not Clark Griffith's contribution to the diamond, and the leader of the New York Highlanders has been getting entirely too much credit for the introduction of one of the most exciting plays ever seen in a game, especially when the contest is at all close.

The man who introduced the famous play into the national game is Angus Grant, manager and captain of the South Bend Central league team, and he has made it one of the features of the play of South Bend ever since the city has been a member of the league. The play, though, was used before the formation of the league, Grant having used it with good effect when he was captain of the local independent club four years ago.

The first time it was ever used, Harry Arndt, now with Cincinnati, and Grant, were the principals to make the trick, and so successful was the play that it carried the rooters to their feet. With one man out and with Arndt on third and Grant on first, the former secured a fairly good lead off the sack, and just as the ball left the pitcher's hands he was off like a shot for the plate. The fans couldn't understand the move, but when Grant dumped the ball about three feet in front of the plate and Arndt was over the rubber with the winning run, the fans realized what had happened.

It was through the liberal use of this play that South Bend finished second in the Central league race of 1903. Last year Capt. Bade Myers of Fort Wayne saw the value of the play and won the pennant a second time. When once started, the play is a team killer to the opponents.

MORE CASH IS ASKED BY THE BIG WRESTLERS

NEW YORK, April 16.—(Special.)—New Yorkers will have to wait a little longer before they see George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," and Tom Jenkins, the American catch-as-catch-can wrestler, meet on the mat. Bids for the match were opened yesterday, but all proved unsatisfactory, and another meeting is to be arranged at which plans for bringing the men together will be made.

Four bids were received. They were from P. T. Powers, representing Madison Square garden, and from the Manhattan Casino, Grand Central Palace and American League park.

Harry Pollock, manager for Jenkins, and C. B. Cochran, Hackenschmidt's representative, were present when the bids were opened, but they thought that better inducements should be offered. They were not prepared at the time to go ahead, but a meeting will be held soon.

It is possible that the failure to secure a satisfactory bid may not delay the match to any great extent. Both men can get in condition readily, and the fixing of the date and the signing of articles is the principal thing. Their managers have agreed to post $1,000 each to bind the match as soon as a bid is accepted.

Magoon Jumps to Toronto.

YORK, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—Magoon, York's new shortstop who was to succeed "Red" Davis, has jumped to Toronto. He accepted York's terms, came here and practiced with the team for several days. Last night he received a telegram and this morning checked his baggage for Buffalo.

WHAT THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS ARE DOING

Something About the Well Known Tossers and Those Coming to the Front.

Elmer Smith will leave today to join the Ilion (New York) State league club.

The Cumberland (Md.) players will report today.

Charlie Crowe is dickering with players in different leagues, and if he lands them Niles should have the best team on the circuit.

John Russell, York's big center fielder; Red Hinton, third baseman; Catcher Joe Smith and Pitcher Matthews have arrived in York.

Waldo Sasse will play right field for Bloomington in the Three I. league.

Hugo Kruger, the local boy who was in the Three I. league last year, will report to Niles about May 1.

Milt Frye, the Carnegie catcher, has jumped the Dayton Central league club. He is at home.

George England has turned down an offer to umpire in the Iowa State league.

Altoona fans are anxiously awaiting the appearance of Vic Willis, the crack Boston twirler. It is said that Boston has materially increased its offer to the twirler.

Bennett, the new shortstop from the Nashville team of the Southern league, reported at Williamsport Saturday ready for work. He was fifth among the batters of that league last season.

Lancaster has signed Day, who pitched for Fall River and Lowell in the New England league last season. He ranked high among the pitchers and was third in fielding his position.

Johnstown will be known as the "Joyful Johnnies," Altoona the "Giants," Lancaster the "Maroons," Williamsport the "Lumbermen," York the "Champs" and Harrisburg the "Senators."

Frank Ward, the Altoona boy who played with Birmingham last season, has signed to cover second for Coatesville.

"Red" Davis of Allegheny, who was with Altoona the last few years, and who signed a contract with Buffalo last winter, is seeking a berth in the Tri-State. Failing to secure one, he will join the Wilmington independent club.

A deal has just been closed by which Jack Deal, first baseman of Harrisburg last season, will go to Lebanon. It is reported that Harrisburg will secure Hoffman in exchange.

York is making big preparations for the opening of the season there April 28, when the pennant will be flung to the breezes and the Farnesworth cup will be placed on exhibition. Like all other Tri-State cities, York will have a big street parade on the opening day.

Altoona is greatly pleased over the work of Catcher Stephens, the Steubenville boy recommended by Tommy Needham. Bates of the same city also makes a favorable impression in the Mountain City outfield.

Joe Martin, the Columbus outfielder; Fred Badel of Carnegie; "Hans" Lobert, the Beltzhoover favorite; George McConnell, the Wheeling giant; Shaw, the Buffalo outfielder; Eddie Murphy, the Flood City catcher; Dick Nallin and Manager Atherton are doing the most of the slugging in practice at Johnstown.

John Rudolph, the Natrona boy who signed with Williamsport, has already sprung into public favor. He is fast in the outfield and is swatting the ball like a fiend.

Brent, who signed with Norwich in the Connecticut league, has returned his advance money and decided to play with Coatesville in the Tri-State. Tibbetts, last year with Fall River, has signed with the same team.

Billy Hamilton will take active charge of the Harrisburg club today. He has 32 men signed as candidates for the team.

The Pittsburgh Collegians and Homestead teams will have the same kind of uniforms this year. The shirt and pants will be of steel gray material with blue caps and blue stockings with a white band. J. Will Lockhart says there is no difference in the uniform to be worn by these two teams.

"It's the man who runs out every hit, who is always on edge and wide-awake that appears to have luck," says Frank Selee. "Whenever the opposing team makes a misplay—even if such a thing happens only twice in a whole season—he is in a position to take advantage of it and make a base, scores a run, or, perhaps, wins a game, where the ordinary player who doesn't work all the time is unprepared for the misplay and fails to turn it to his team's account."

W. & J. Has Hard Games.

WASHINGTON, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—Washington and Jefferson college will have two hard games with visiting teams this week. California Normal will be here Wednesday, while Waynesburg college's crack nine will play W. and J. Saturday.

SPRINGFIELD GETS BRIDGES

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., April 16.—President Holland of the Three-I league has spent a busy week approving the contracts of players for the various cities on the circuit. Most of the managers have now signed their entire list of men with the exception of those expected from the major leagues when they begin their weeding-out program.

The Decatur association is looking for the return of Pitcher Groth from Chicago. Boylan, the Clinton amateur pitcher, has been released to Peoria, as Decatur did not need him.

George Ives signed a contract last week with Davenport and resumes his old place in the outfield. He held out for more salary, but finally came to terms. Stauffer, the veteran twirler, has also joined the team. The work of Wilson, the amateur pitcher of Rock Island, attracted much attention. Manager Hayes was well pleased with the showing of his men during the week of training at Galesburg. Eugene McGreevy, the veteran Bloomington pitcher, who is with Davenport this year, is giving satisfaction.

Rock Island has signed another infielder, Shirley Reeves of Knightstown, Ind. He was in the Copper State league last year, and was given a trial by Minneapolis this spring. Deoin is showing up strongly in left field.

Manager Conners of Bloomington has been promised a number of the Minneapolis surplus players to help out in the training season. Schamweber, who was given a trial by Bloomington two years ago, is among the number wanted. Bachman and Leighby, the new candidates for shortstop, are showing up satisfactory. Sass, the new right fielder to succeed Cassady, and Powell and Comstock, who are candidates for first base, also appear to be fast enough for the Three-I.

Roxy Walters, the new second baseman, who was purchased from Decatur last fall, reported for duty. Dick Smith, the veteran pitcher, who has been with the team for three years, has also reported, being the last man to arrive.

Manager Donnelly of Springfield thinks that his men are showing up stronger than his team of a year ago. He is working out John Luckenbill, the Bloomington amateur pitcher. Gruhlke, a new pitcher from Montella, Wis., has been added to the squad. Bridges, the twirler who was released to Springfield, also arrived this week.

Manager Nicol of the Peoria team is satisfied with the showing of his players in the practice games. The fast work of his new catcher, Simon, formerly of Columbus, has won favor. Manager Belden, Hill of Cedar Rapids signed a new infielder, C. R. Cave, this week. He has been playing in Kansas.

Manager Hines of Dubuque was pleased to have George Hughes back in the game this week. He reported under protest and is still anxious to get away from Dubuque. Seitz, a young pitcher, has been signed by Dubuque. Gaspard, the new twirler of Dubuque, gave entire satisfaction in the opening game this week.

President Holland forwarded a circular letter this week to the members of the umpiring staff, asking them to procure a uniform of dark blue. He is anxious to have the umpires present a neat appearance upon the diamond this year.

GROVE CITY IS READY FOR THE OPENING GAME

GROVE CITY, PA., April 16.—(Special.)—The Grove City college baseball team has had an excellent week's practice. Coach Breen thinks the men are in fine trim for the opening game. The season will open Monday with Wilkinsburg, and for this game the locals will play as follows: Catcher, Businsky; pitchers, Thomas, Hazleton, Harkins; first base, Sandalls; short, Hutton; third, Ralston; left field, Campbell; middle, Morris; right, Baldwin. Second base will be covered by Thomas and Harkins of the pitching staff.

Trinity Defeats Holy Cross.

WORCESTER, MASS., April 16.—(Special.)—Reckless base running spoiled Holy Cross' chances in yesterday's game with Trinity. Loftus, who received his first try behind the bat for Holy Cross, made a double and home run, the latter over the left fence in left field, a feat which has not been accomplished since Powers, now catcher for the Philadelphia Americans, did the trick when catching for Holy Cross. The score:

Trinity	R.	H.	E.

MEXICO'S TRADE GROWS RAPIDLY

MUCH AMERICAN IRON USED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.

"Commercial Mexico in 1905," is the title of monograph just issued by the department of commerce and labor through its bureau of statistics. Its object, as indicated by the title, is to present commercial conditions in Mexico at the present time, the producing and consuming power of that country, the sections of the world from which it now draws its imports and to which it sends its exports, the classes of articles in which its demands are increasing or decreasing, and the classes of products which it is supplying to various parts of the world, and especially to the United States.

Commerce between Mexico and the United States has grown in recent years with great rapidity, and large sums of American capital have been invested in various business enterprises in Mexico, including agriculture, mining, transportation and manufactures, while on the other hand Mexico is contributing each year more largely to the commercial requirements of the United States, especially in those articles and classes of articles not produced in this country, or at least not produced in sufficient quantities to supply the demands of manufacturers or others in whose industries or business enterprises they are required. Imports of merchandise into the United States from Mexico have grown from $4,346,304 in 1874 to $48,638,275 in 1904, the value of merchandise imported from Mexico in 1904 being, therefore, 10 times as great as in 1874, or 30 years earlier. On the other hand, exports from the United States to Mexico have grown from $5,946,839 in 1874 to $45,844,720 in 1904, the exports to Mexico in 1904 being thus about eight times as great as in 1874.

Rapid Growth of Production.

The above figures of trade between the United States and Mexico are taken from the official reports of the United States government, and show the imports into the United States from Mexico and the exports from the United States to that country. An examination of the statistics of Mexico, however, show that in 1903, the latest available year, 64 per cent of the exports of merchandise from that country were sent to the United States and 53 per cent of the imports of merchandise were from the United States. Comparing these conditions with earlier years it may be said that in 1873-4 the exports of merchandise to the United States from Mexico formed 58 per cent of the total of Mexican exports, and the imports from the United States formed 25 per cent of the total of Mexican imports.

The rapid growth of the production, industries and commerce of Mexico in recent years and the prospect of a continuation of that growth is suggested by the fact that in the short period of 20 years its revenue has increased from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000, its imports from $20,000,000 to $75,000,000, and its exports from $7,000,00 to $43,000,000, exclusive of 40,500,000 of gold and silver. The investment of American capital in Mexico was estimated by United States Consul-General Barlow in 1902 at $500,000,000, nearly all invested within the last 25 years, and about one-half of it within the last five years. Since then the investment has doubtless increased materially. Such investments, by adding to the productive power of the land, must necessarily increase its purchasing power. Evidently, therefore, Mexico is now, and is destined to be to an increasing degree, a customer whose wants and whose resources are eminently worthy of accurate study by American business men.

Increase in Imports.

The features of the work which are of especial importance to those who are engaged in commerce with Mexico or who are desirous of developing commerce with that country are the tables which show the imports into Mexico for a term of years and the countries from which these imports were drawn, also tables showing the exports from the United States to Mexico for a term of years and the principal articles making up this export trade to Mexico.

Taking up first the table of imports into Mexico from the various countries of the world, it may be stated that the total value of the imports of Mexico were in 1903, $75,905,000, against $43,413,000 in 1893, making a gain of $32,500,000 in the imports during the period from 1893 to 1903. Of this $32,000,000 of increase, nearly one-half occurred in imports from the United States. The total imports of Mexico from the United States in 1893 were $26,236,000, and in 1903, $40,796,000, against $14,500,000. The next largest increase in imports is found in those from Germany, which were in 1893 $2,875,000, and in 1903, $9,560,000, an increase of $6,750,000, against the increase of $14,600,000 by the United States. The next in the order of gain during the period was the United Kingdom, from which Mexico imported merchandise and specie to the value of $5,681,000 in 1893, and in 1903 $10,231,000, an increase of $4,750,000. From France, the imports of 1893 were $4,781,000, and in 1903, $6,537,000, a gain of less than $2,000,000. From Belgium the imports of 1893 were $398,000, and in 1903 $2,590,000, an increase of a little more than $2,000,000. From Spain the imports of 1893 were $2,212,000, and in 1903 $3,030,000. Thus, it may be stated in a word that the growth of imports into Mexico during the period from 1893 to 1903 was, in the case of Spain, less than $1,000,000, France a little less than $2,000,000, Belgium a little more than $2,000,000, United Kingdom, a little less than $5,000,000, Germany slightly less than $7,000,000, and the United States slightly below $15,000,000, and that the increase of imports from the United States alone was more than that of the increase from Germany, United Kingdom and France combined.

As to the principal articles making up the grand total of $45,000,000 worth of exports from the United States to Mexico, it may be stated that manufactures of iron and steel held the highest rank; coal, second in rank; cotton and manufactures of cotton, third; while lumber, carriages and cars, manufactures of leather, manufactures of wood, chemicals, drugs and dyes, gunpowder and mineral oil are also important items in the table of exports to Mexico, and in practically every case show a gratifying growth.

WHITE RECEIVED BY KING.

The American Ambassador Presents his Credoutials to Victor Emmanuel of Italy.

ROME, April 16.—Henry White, the new American ambassador to Rome, was received in audience by King Victor Emmanuel today and presented his letters. Mr. White was taken to the quirinal in a gala carriage by Marquis Borea D'Olmo, master of ceremonies, followed by other court carriages conveying the personnel of the American embassy, including former Secretary Iddings, Second Secretary Leonard N. Thomas, Lieut. Commander William L. Howard, naval attache, and Maj. Frank A. Edwards, military attache.

The party was received by the prefect of the palace. Count Gianotti, who admitted Ambassador White to the presence of the king. After the presentation of the letters of credence King Victor Emanuel engaged Mr. White in a cordial conversation which lasted half an hour. In the afternoon Ambassador White visited members of the diplomatic corps.

DUNN'S STRENUOUS NIGHT.

Fights With a Policeman and Breaks Hospital Window.

Thomas Dunn of Thirty-ninth and Howley streets spent a strenuous Saturday night. Policeman Owen Woods arrested Dunn for drunkenness at Penn avenue and Main street about midnight. Dunn resisted and struck Woods in the face. Woods used his mace. Dunn was so badly warsted that he was sent to St. Francis hospital, where a gash in his scalp two inches in length was dressed.

Dunn was still belligerent, started a fight after the doctors were through with him and broke a window worth $10. He was hustled off to the police station, and when taken before Magistrate Kane yesterday morning was let off with a fine of $1.

STATE EXPENSES ARE INCREASED

Creation of New Offices and Larger Salaries Add to the Cost.

APPROPRIATIONS COMPARED

HARRISBURG, PA., April 16.

The creation of new offices and the increase in the salaries of certain officers and employes by the recent legislature will make a material increase in the cost of running the state government the next two fiscal years, as compared with the present two fiscal years. The general appropriation bill passed by the last legislature for the payment of the ordinary expenses of the state and the support of the common schools for the two years beginning June 1 next, carries items aggregating $17,743,800 40, or $1,745,886 40 in excess of the general appropriation bill passed by the legislature in 1903.

The general appropriation bill of 1905 contains an item of $256,320 for the payment of the additional officers and employes of the department of public buildings and grounds as provided for in a bill now in the hands of the governor, and also several smaller items provided in bills which he has not yet acted upon.

Chairman Plummer of the house appropriations committee, by whom the bill was drawn, says he was careful to see that every item was kept down to the minimum, and he will be much disappointed if the governor does not approve the measure as it stands. Only a slight reduction was made by the governor in the general appropriation bill passed by the legislature of 1903.

The appropriation to the public and state normal schools is carried as a separate item in the bill now before the governor; in the bill of 1903 it formed a part of the "miscellaneous items." The dairy and food division is divorced from the department of agriculture, and provision is made for it in a separate item.

Employes Are Increased.

The increase in the appropriations to the treasury department is the result of the increase in the salaries of the cashier and certain other attaches of that department. There is also an increase in the allowance to the adjutant general's office so as to take care of the additional clerks provided for in a bill in the governor's hands.

The governor has already approved bills giving the banking commissioner five additional examiners, the department of public instruction an additional stenographer and increasing the salaries and number of clerks in the department of mines.

Among the miscellaneous items in the bill before the governor is an appropriation of $400,000 to the proposed state department of health, $20,000 to the commission to examine the state's charitable institutions and $2,500 to the Pennsylvania commission to co-operate with the New Jersey fish commission.

The general appropriation bill of 1903 carried items, in addition to $1,348,855 75 of the judiciary, of $84,000 for associate judges; $385,000 for additional salaries under the Moore judges' salary act, and $75,000 for mileage and extra salaries.

Following is a recapitulation of two general appropriation bills of 1905 and 1903, showing the difference in the appropriations made by the last legislature as compared with the general appropriation of the previous legislature:

Italians in a Cutting Affray.

During a fight at an Italian boarding house at 110 Winslow street yesterday afternoon Toney Parson was slashed across the cheek with a razor by Dominick Pavalt. The wound, although several inches long, is not serious. Both men were arrested and locked up in the East End police station.

HAD TO HIDE IT

A mother wrote us recently that she had to keep Scott's Emulsion under lock and key—her children used to drink it whenever her back was turned. Strange that children should like something that is so good for them. It's usually the other way. Scott's Emulsion makes children comfortable, makes them fat and rosy-cheeked. Perhaps that's why they like it so much—they know it makes them feel good.

WILL BRING TOGETHER GREAT RAILROAD MEN

Delegates to International Congress to Make a Tour of the Country.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Nearly 1,000 delegates, the owners and operating officials of upwards of 400,000 miles of railway in 44 different countries, constitute the personnel of the international railway congress which is to hold a 10 days' session in this city beginning May 4 next. At the close of the congress the delegates are to make a thorough inspection of the railways of the United States, particularly with reference to equipment and shops. The honorary presidents, representing the railways of this country, will be A. J. Cassatt and E. H. Harriman, while the actual president will be Styvesant Fish of the Illinois Central railroad. The lines these three gentlemen represent touch one another and form a continuous line of rail from the Atlantic to the Pacific, passing through the heart of the continent and extending from the great lakes to the gulf.

Part of the important work accomplished at these meetings is the inspection of workshops, equipment and construction in each country visited, with the result of stimulating inquiry into improved methods and giving the whole world the benefit of the work of the brightest minds everywhere engaged in solving problems which present different phases in different countries, but which have features of common interest to all alike.

No such assemblage of representatives of railway interests has ever been brought together in the United States. As the sessions are held only once in five years it is likely to be many years before it will meet again in this country.

GIRL DIES OF BRUTAL TREATMENT IN PRISON

Punished for Refusing to Expose Leaders of Polish Pupils' Strike.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WARSAW, April 16.—Russian officialdom's latest victim is Angele Zochowski, a girl of 17, who has just died as the result of barbarous treatment meted out to her in Warsaw prison. During the recent riots many of the school children "struck," the only means they had of showing how passionately they side with their parents in their animosity against the oppressor.

With this juvenile protest Angele Zochowski, who was a pupil of the Second Gymnasium, as it is called, was associated. She was promptly arrested and placed in solitary connement, after which the police officials set to work to terrify her into telling who were the ring leaders in the "strike." As Angele steadfastly refused, they kept her short of food and water, and when, after a course of this treatment, she still held out, she was beaten several times a day. Her health gave way under this brutal handling, and now she is dead—but she breathed her last without telling her murderers what they wanted to know.

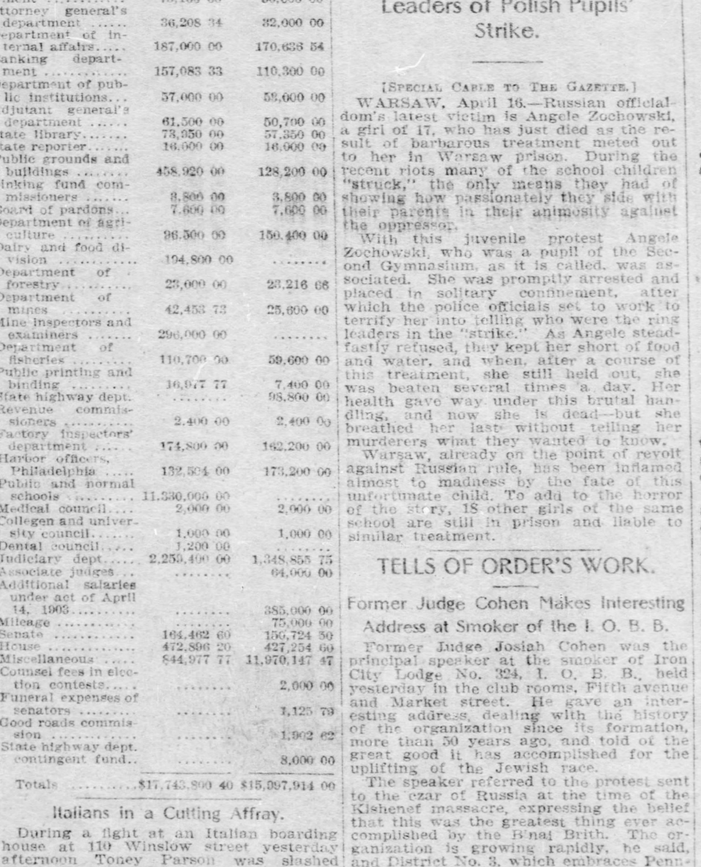
Warsaw, already on the point of revolt against Russian rule, has been inflamed almost to madness by the fate of this unfortunate child. To add to the horror of the story, 18 other girls of the same school are still in prison and liable to similar treatment.

TELLS OF ORDER'S WORK.

Former Judge Cohen Makes Interesting Address at Smoker of the I. O. B. B.

Former Judge Josiah Cohen was the principal speaker at the smoker of Iron City Lodge No. 324, I. O. B. B., held yesterday in the club rooms, Fifth avenue and Market street. He gave an interesting address, dealing with the history of the organization since its formation, more than 50 years ago, and told of the great good it has accomplished for the uplifting of the Jewish race.

The speaker referred to the protest sent to the czar of Russia at the time of the Kishenef massacre, expressing the belief that this was the greatest thing ever accomplished by the B'nai Brith. The organization is growing rapidly, he said, and District No. 3, which embraces Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, has taken in 1,000 new members during the last year. The Pittsburgh lodge is preparing to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary next month.



There are no less than fourteen remedies in this standard family medicine. Among them we might mention sarsaparilla root, yellow dock root, stillingia root, buckthorn bark, senna leaves, burdock root, cimicifuga root, cinchona bark, phytolacca root.

SOLDIERS WILL RUN THE TRAINS IN ITALY

General Strike Declared and Government Is Preparing for Any Emergency.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, April 16.—A general strike of railway employes is to be inaugurated tomorrow morning in accordance with the arrangements perfected through cipher telegrams directed to all railway centers by the agitation committee at Rome. The Neapolitan railway men were insistent upon going on strike Saturday night and as a concession to them the central authorities of the operatives association consented that traffic on both the Naples lines should be stopped immediately, but that on others one train should run today. The strike will prove a great embarrassment to foreign tourists, of whom there are a great many in Italy just now.

In reply to an interrogation in the chamber of deputies relative to the railway bill which is on the calendar for discussion on Monday, Premier Fortis said: "We still hope with persuasion to bring the railway men to reason, but if these means are insufficient I declare the government knows its duty and how to accomplish it with the approbation of the cabinet, trusting to have the approval of public opinion, which wishes to prevent arrogance by the railway men. I can state that public order will be maintained everywhere and also that the public will be served within the limits of possibility. The government feels that it has the moral and material strength to accomplish what it considers to be its right and duty."

The chief measures upon which the government relies consist in having the stations occupied by military and trains conducted by soldiers, the navy supplying engine drivers and stokers. Trains will be escorted by soldiers and will carry workmen ready to repair any damage that may be inflicted upon the line. Express trains will be discontinued and the minimum of one ordinary train daily will be maintained on each of the principal lines. The tracks will be patrolled by cavalry.

POPE RECEIVES AMERICANS.

His Holiness Gives Audience to 150 Citizens of the United States.

ROME, April 16.—Pope Pius X. received today in the hall of the consistory 150 Americans, including Jacob S. Smith and wife of New York and Mrs. M. D. Walsh, E. Dietrich, B. F. Shriver of Baltimore. The pope entered the hall accompanied by high personages of the court, preceded by two American private chamberlains, the Rev. Martin Maloney of Philadelphia and the Rev. J. S. Brennan of Wilmington, Del. He gave his hand to each of the Americans in turn and said a kind word.

Afterward, standing in the middle of the hall and speaking in Italian, his words being translated by the Rev. Dr. Murphy, vice rector of the American college at Rome, his holiness said how pleased he was to meet so many Americans.

BRADDOCK SCHOOL BOARD LOSING MUCH REVENUE

No relief has been found by the Braddock school board or the borough authorities from the deficient assessment in the First ward, where there is still a falling off of 1,281 names on the assessor's books. It has been discovered that the tax assessor did not assess any foreigners except those who have naturalization papers. There is a deficiency of $50,000 in the valuation and the school board will lose about $5,000 in direct taxes and state appropriation.

Just a little too far and the woman who reaches over the cliff for the coveted flower goes crashing down into the abyss below. Just a little too far and the woman, who, day by day, neglects to cure the womanly diseases which weaken her is prostrated upon a bed of sickness.

No woman should trifle with the diseases peculiar to her sex. Neglect to-day means a worse condition to-morrow.

"My wife, Mrs. Mary Estes, has been taking your medicine and received great benefit from it," writes Mr. Estes, of Springgrove, Va. "Was troubled with female weakness, heavy, bearing-down pains, severe pain in back and head, and a tired, worn-out feeling all the time. Tried all the remedies we could hear of, but they did no good. Finally we wrote to you and my wife commenced taking 'Favorite Prescription.' Took ten bottles, and is in better health than before in a long time. We shall always recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to all who are thus afflicted."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.
